Sirhan Appears In Court, Gets 3-Week Delay

Accused Assassin Heavily Guarded in 9-Minute Hearing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, accused assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, was granted an additional three weeks today to enter his plea to a charge of murder.

Defense attorney Russell E. Parsons won a delay from Superior Court Judge Richard Schauer, saying he needed more time to study the transcript.

The hearing, which lasted nine minutes, was conducted in the third floor chapel-auditorium of the Los Angeles County Jail under strict security.

Sirhan, 24-year-old Jordanian immigrant, entered the room flanked by four large deputies who virtually hid the slender defendant from the approximately 150 newsmen on hand.

Psychiatrist Named

Judge Schauer at Parsons' request appointed a psychiatrist, Dr. George Abe of Metropolitan State Hospital in suburban Norwalk, to examine Sirhan and submit a confidential report for use of the defense.

Dr. Abe will replace Dr. Edward Stainbrook, who declined a request to examine the defendant. Another physician, Dr. Eric Marcus, already has examined Sirhan for the defense.

Sirhan walked into the temporary court, apparently recovered from the sprained ankle that forced him to use a wheelchair when he was arraigned on a murder charge. The ankle was injured while he was being subdued after Kennedy was shot and mortally wounded during an election victory celebration June 5.

Waives Right

Before granting the continuance to July 19 the judge asked Sirhan if he would waive his right to go to trial within 60 days after the return of the indictment.

"Yes, I do," Sirhan said.

Judge Schauer said he would ask Dr. Abe to give a general psychiatric examination. He said he would order the doctor not to give a copy to anyone except the defense.

Parsons said he wanted to study the lengthy transcript of the county grand jury proceeding June 7 that led to Sirhan's indictment on one count of murder and five counts of assault with intent to commit murder.

The assault charges were filed on behalf of five bystanders wounded in the fusillade of bullets that felled the Democratic presidential aspirant.

Making Progress

The most seriously wounded of those five, Paul Schrade, western regional director for the United Auto Workers Union, was reported Thursday to be making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

Schrade, 42, suffered a head wound and was hospitalized nine days after undergoing a two-hour operation to remove bone and bullet fragments. His doctor, neurosurgeon Kaspar Fuchs, said no decision would be made for several weeks as to whether a metal plate would be placed in the wound.

Today's proceeding at the chapel, where Sirhan formally was charged with murder three weeks ago, originally had been scheduled for the Hall of Justice where he is to be tried.

The County Board of Supervisors has authorized installation of protection devices, at an estimated cost of $20,000 because of numerous threats against Sirhan and Parsons.

Georgians Say 'Phooey'

Maddox Gets the Word

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox says "phooey on the whole crowd" of phooey-grammers.

The governor responded to a campaign based on his favorite expletive. Phooey-grams bear one word, "Phooey," plus the name of the sender.

Atlanta attorney James H. Moore initiated the campaign—phooey buttons, phooey bumper stickers and possibly a phooey flagpole.

He sent the first official communication but it missed the mark. It read: "Phooey."

And, an over-anxious supporter beat Moore to the draw. His wire read, "Dear

Gov. Maddox: I just couldn't wait. Phooey."

Moore said he conceived the idea at lunch with friends one day.

"We were discussing how obnoxious Lester was and what a name he was giving the state," Moore said. "We thought how great it would be if millions of Georgians would just say phooey on him."

'Phooey Skirts'

Moore hopes phooey buttons and bumper stickers will be on the market soon. He also has designated all skirts above the knee as "phooey skirts" because Maddox refuses to allow female employees in his office to wear miniskirts.

Moore also wants to erect a phooey flagpole which will not operate above half staff in memory of the governor's order lowering the flag to half staff in mourning of a school desegregation decision by the U.S. Supreme Court.

"I just want to keep driving the message home to him that Georgians reject him. We have no use for him. We want him to resign," Moore said, adding that he had received many calls from people who said they liked the idea.

The attorney said his interest in politics goes no farther than the issues.

"I have no political aspirations for myself," he said. "I have some for Lester—total oblivion."

Backing Said To Exist in Both Parties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of President Johnson's naming a new chief justice are claiming increasing support in both parties and the offensive seems to have taken the Senate Democratic leadership by surprise.

The opposition, centered so far largely on a petition being circulated by Senate Republicans, is "a little more emphatic than I anticipated it would be," Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said Thursday night.

"I don't know what these people can do," commented Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., of the Senate Judiciary Committee which will consider Johnson's appointments of the Supreme Court and Homer Thornberry as an associate justice.

Portas would replace the retiring Earl Warren with Thornberry stepping up from the U.S. Court of Appeals in Austin, Tex., to fill the vacancy created by Fortas' elevation.

'Worst of Hypocrisy'

Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., described the GOP move to block the nominations "a blatant political maneuver" and "the worst sort of hypocrisy." "In 1960, when a Senate resolution urged President Eisenhower not to make Supreme Court appointments while the Senate was not in session, the Republicans were up in arms," Brewster said in a statement today.

"They argued that it was imperative that there be a full complement of justices at all times," he continued. "Yet today, with Congress still in session, with the Senate fully prepared to confirm or reject these nominations on their own merits, some Republicans tell us that it is now best for the country to leave the highest seat on that court vacant for almost six months."

'Double Talk'

"This is partisan double talk," Brewster contended, "and I hope my colleagues recognize it for what it is."

Mansfield, Eastland and Brewster commented in the wake of two major developments:

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., circulator of the petition, claimed support of most of his GOP colleagues and some Democrats and said "I really think the nominations can be blocked."

A question was raised in the Judiciary Committee about whether a vacancy really exists this.

Infiltrators Enter Capital

Allied Forces Sure Another Saigon Attack Set to Begin

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong infiltrators were reported pushing groups of perhaps 50 to 60 men toward Saigon today, and at a time have been infiltrating Vietnamese forces in the capital from the west and northwest side Saigon, the nerve center for combat operations around the capital, defenses were bolstered with additional machine guns and sandbags.

Attack Follows

Such infiltration by the Viet Cong has always been followed by an attack in the past. This time they are expected to hit the same areas they did during the offensives in February and May—Cholon, the Chinese quarter in the southwest part of the city, and Gia Dinh.

Intelligence sources have reported that captured documents and prisoner interrogations indicate the Communist command is planning a full-scale attack on the capital late this month or early in July.

The aim, U.S. officers say, is to strengthen Hanoi's bargaining position at the peace negotiations in Paris.

Informants estimate that 12,500 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops are within a 25-mile radius of Saigon.

The U.S. Command has 6,000 troops on the edges of Saigon, while 4,000 South Vietnamese are stationed inside the city.

To blunt the threatened attack, about 10,000 allied soldiers have been patrolling intensively within a 15-mile arc of Saigon.

LBJ Signs Bill on Monday Holidays

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a bill making four national holidays fall on Mondays to provide travel agencies and the business community with the main don't go into effect until 1971, champions of the legislation, however.

The new law will change the dates for Washington's birthday, Memorial Day and Veterans Day, and give Columbus Day status as a national holiday sought by Italian-Americans.

A major argument used by its sponsors was that Monday holidays on the third Monday in February would stimulate greater industry, Memorial Day on the last day of the month and commercial production in May, Columbus Day on the second Monday in October and avoiding the interruptions of midweek holidays on Monday in October.

The bill applies only to federal employees and the District of Columbia. But by Jan. 1, 1971, when the law takes effect, most states are expected to have day-and-Veterans Day, but the holiday to go along with the new bill passed easily in both the House and Senate.

Opponents also argued that the creation of a new national holiday—Columbus Day—will cost that has happened to the travel industry since the invention of the automobile," said Clarence

Rockefeller Pays Visit to 'That Drug Store'

HURON, S.D. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller visited the Humphrey drug store Thursday, received a whispered message from a woman clerk, and found that he had overspent his immediate finances.

During his stop at the drug store founded by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's parents, a woman clerk wearing an "HHH" button leaned over and whispered into the New York governor's ear, "I'm the only Republican working here."

She smiled and gave Rockefeller a pat on the arm.

The candidate for the Republican presidential nomination was greeted by the vice president's sister-in-law, Mrs. Ralph Humphrey, who assisted him in making a few purchases.

There was much laughter when the millionaire governor dug into his personal finances and found himself eight cents short of the $21.08 bill.

A newsman chipped in a dime to close the fiscal gap. Rockefeller purchased a pair of earrings for his wife Happy, a drinking cup for 4-year-old Nelson Jr., and a set of colored wooden rings on a peg for 15-month-old Mark.

Smiling, Mrs. Humphrey termed the visit "kind of good for my morale."

She recalled that the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy had made a similar visit when he was campaigning in South Dakota for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Robert Kennedy Jr., 15, son of the late senator, rides a motorbike Thursday in a Paris suburb. He arrived Tuesday for a short visit with his aunt and uncle, Ambassador and Mrs. R. Sargent Shriver, before flying to Tanzania to spend the rest of the summer in a game conservation camp. (AP Wirephoto)

Montreal Doctors Do 2nd Heart Transplant

MONTREAL (AP) — A surgical team at the Montreal Heart Institute planted a new heart today in the chest of Gaetan Paris, a 49-year-old electrical designer, and set it to beating with a single electrical shock.

This was Canada's second heart transplant. Like the first, it was performed by a team of the institute headed by Dr. Pierre Grondin. The surgery took somewhat less than three hours, but examinations showed that none was suitable.

The heart came from Yvon Bastien, 23, of Montreal, who died from injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident Thursday night.

Paris had suffered three heart attacks and doctors considered he had little time to live. The father of five children, his home is nearby Laval.

The operation is the 22nd in the world. Four of the transplant recipients are still living. Naval Hospital today performed the world's 23rd human heart transplant into a 24-year-old woman, Navy officials reported.

The operation today was started hours after the recipient's wife publicly appealed to hospital emergency wards in the area to remind families of accident victims that her husband needed a heart transplant.

'Make the Gesture'

King's Brother Vows To Help Garbagemen

Slaying Was During Strike In Memphis

ST PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The Rev. A. D. King, brother of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has vowed to help 211 fired garbagemen "fight the battle of St. Petersburg" to regain their jobs with a pay increase.

In a speech following the arrest of 45 protest marchers Thursday night, King declared that "soul force" would prevail and "bring down the walls of city hall" in this resort town of 180,000.

His brother, a Nobel Peace Prize winner, was assassinated in Memphis, Tenn., last April 4, while in that city to lead a protest march by garbage workers.

Emotional Speech

Some 300 demonstrators and supporters packed into second Bethel Baptist Church to hear King's emotional speech as lightning cracked and rain poured down outside.

King said he had heard that his life had been threatened, but said he was not concerned. He told supporters "If a man is not willing to die for what he believes in, he should not lead."

Two plainclothes policemen were assigned to watch King during his stay.

"We say if you (the city administration) can't pay another quarter to sanitation workers, then we will walk the streets every day until you do!" he shouted over cheering and clapping in the old church.

The 211 workers have demanded an increase of 25 cents an hour in wages on salaries ranging from $1.75 to $2.25 an hour. City Manager Lynn Andrews fired the workers—all but one of whom are Negroes—after they went out on strike May 7.

'Values' of Khe Sanh Lost in New Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military officers from the Joint Chiefs of Staff on down cited everything from psychology to infiltration to the possibility of a great victory as reason for holding Khe Sanh.

Now the Marine outpost below South Vietnam's demilitarized zone is being dismantled in an abrupt change in tactics for defense of the country's northernmost provinces.

The U.S. Command in announcing abandonment of the base put emphasis on "a new concept of mobile warfare" to be used in the five-province 1st Corps area.

Earlier this year the emphasis was on something quite different.

Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, told the Senate Armed Services Committee Feb. 16, when Khe Sanh

Part of Vietnam

"Since Khe Sanh is a part of Vietnam, and no one of whom I am aware has any idea of giving up a part of South Vietnam—it seems to me that we should not pay the price twice by giving it up and then having to re-take it."

As recently as Monday night Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, recalled his own memorandum to President Johnson on Jan. 29, saying the chiefs "have reviewed the situation at Khe Sanh and concur with Gen. William C. Westmoreland's assessment of the situation. They recommended that we maintain our position at Khe Sanh."

Westmoreland, then commander in Vietnam, will become Army chief of staff in July.

On Feb. 5, Wheeler told newsmen after testifying before the Senate Armed Services Committee: "It (Khe Sanh) is psychologically important because if lost it would permit North Vietnamese troops to advance deep into South Vietnamese territory, come very close to the heavily populated coastal regions, and thereby exacerbate the fears of the South Vietnamese that the North Vietnamese will be able to take over the two northern provinces of South Vietnam—a long time objective of theirs."

In an Associated Press interview March 20, Gen. Leonard M. Chapman, commander of the Marine Corps, which was entrusted with Khe Sanh's fate, said:

"It has several significant values to us, most important of which is that it sits astride north-south and east-west routes into the northern province ... It's a severe disadvantage to them for us to hold Khe Sanh I think that is the material advantage. Of course, there is also the psychological aspect of the thing as it is now built up."

At a May 24 Pentagon news conference, Marine Col. David M. Lownds, who commanded the base during the months of siege, said:

"There's been much said about the desirability of defending Khe Sanh. Naturally I wouldn't want to get into any of the ramifications of how strategic decisions are made. I do know that certainly it must have been considered important if the North Vietnamese would have put the number of forces around it that they did."

Troop Estimates

Estimates of the numbers of North Vietnamese surrounding Khe Sanh at the height of the battle ranged from 20,000 to 40,000.

According to Pentagon figures, 199 Marines died at Khe Sanh and another 1,600 were wounded between Jan. 20 and April 1.

The North Vietnamese, by Pentagon count, lost "in excess of 10,000" dead during the same period.

The North Vietnamese poured in thousands of artillery and mortar shells but in turn were subjected to an unprecedented U.S. air bombardment campaign.

Col. Lownds told Pentagon newsmen he never felt Khe Sanh was being used as bait to lure the North Vietnamese into a trap but he acknowledged there had been a decision at high levels to make the situation what he termed "a set-piece battle."

Gen. Wheeler said in a speech at Westbury, N.Y., Monday night: "Gen. Westmoreland's Khe Sanh campaign plan as he told me before the fact was to let the enemy commit himself and then beat him to death with airpower."

U. S. May Seek to Follow Up Gromyko Endorsement of Curb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may ask its ambassador in Moscow to prod for a followup to Russia's endorsement of talks on curbing the nuclear arms race, State Department officials say.

This was one of the options outlined by department officials Thursday as they described as vastly encouraging a statement by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Gromyko was quoted as telling the Supreme Soviet, Russia's highest legislative body, that his government "is prepared to exchange opinions on this question" of restricting offensive and defensive nuclear systems.

Washington strategists said the speech was the first Soviet pronouncement—public or private—of readiness for the long-sought negotiations.

Complex Problem

"The United States is ready to move forward to examine and solve this extremely important and complex problem," said State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey.

President Johnson proposed mutual missile reduction to the 17-nation Geneva disarmament conference as long ago as 1964. The Soviets showed interest when Washington began prodding again 1½ years ago, but they have yet to set a time and place for talks.

McCloskey said the U.S. ambassador to Russia, Llewellyn Thompson, may take the initiative by calling on the Foreign Ministry to prod for specifics.

Dog Saves Lad From Snake

HILLSBORO, Mo. (AP) — Smokey, a dog trained for police work, knocked down his 13-year-old master Thursday and went forward to battle a copperhead snake.

Morie Myers, son of Jefferson County deputy sheriff William Myers, was romping through a berry patch at his home near Hillsboro when the 6-year-old German shepherd suddenly leaped against the boy.

Several feet ahead lay the snake and Smokey tangled with it. By the time Morie could get his dog away from the snake, Smokey had suffered a bite.

Smokey's leg swelled to twice its normal size but a veterinarian said he would recover. In the meantime, Morie said he would do the nursing for his hero.

A Teepee and Tent encampment by Indians in Olympia, Wash., in Pro-Resurrection City II, has been set up test over broken treaties.

Resurrection City II

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — Another Washington had its Resurrection City today—a teepee and tent encampment set up by Indians who say they want their land back because white men haven't lived up to their treaties.

The camp, established on a corner of the state capital grounds, is referred to by Indian leader Janet McCloud as "Resurrection City II."

Some of its leaders also were active in the life of the first Resurrection City in the national capital.

When the camp started, Mrs. McCloud announced the Indians were reclaiming a good part of the state—including Olympia. She said the white man had broken the Medicine Creek Treaty of 1854.

Salmon Fishing

She referred to a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that the treaty didn't give Northwest Indians the right to fish commercially for salmon off their reservations in violation of state conservation laws.

The current nighttime population of the camp consisting of three 20-foot canvas teepees and four tents is 29, Mrs. McCloud said.

Lost 2 Friends, He Turns in Gun

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP) — "I lost two friends by assassination in the last five years," said the tall man who had just walked into police headquarters. He handed over a 45 automatic pistol to the officer on duty.

"I want to do everything I can to encourage people to turn in their guns," said the visitor.

The incident occurred Wednesday night.

The man who turned in his gun was William Manchester, author of "Death of a President," the family-authorized account of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Officially Ignored

The settlement is officially ignored by the state.

The camp is also to protest the jailing of Negro comedian and civil rights activist Dick Gregory.

Gregory is in jail just across the street serving a 90-day sentence in connection with an Indian fishing demonstration, said more than two years ago Mrs. McCloud was involved in the original demonstration, too.

To a question of how long the Indians will stay, Mrs. McCloud has a standard answer for all comers. "As long as the sun shines and the rain falls and the mountains stand."

This Is Time to Meddle, McCarthy Says, Answering NAACP Charges

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, answering a charge that he had meddled in NAACP affairs, said Thursday night "I think 1968 is a year we ought to meddle."

"I didn't really feel as though I was an intruder," McCarthy told 300 persons at a reception here "If this had been a meeting of Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts I might have felt a little guilty."

McCarthy's appearance came after Roy Wilkins, director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the Minnesota senator and his aides were meddling in the civil rights organization's 59th annual convention here.

Wilkins told a news conference a few hours before McCarthy arrived that the NAACP never invites political candidates to its conventions and never endorses them.

Mixed Audience

McCarthy's audience included both whites and Negroes. Only about half wore badges identifying them as convention delegates.

Referring to Wilkins' accusation, McCarthy said "It goes back to Thomas Jefferson in 1776 who decided to do a little meddling in the affairs of the British empire."

But the senator said he hadn't come to ask for an endorsement from the NAACP, only to present his views on civil rights.

He then told his audience that he's been trying to eliminate discrimination since he was elected to Congress in 1948.

The gathering applauded loudly when McCarthy said the recommendations of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders was only a realization of what he had said as early as 1955. The report called for a vast nationwide escalation of jobs, housing and education for Negroes.

The reception was held about three blocks from Convention Hall, where the NAACP was meeting McCarthy's aides gave invitations to all convention delegates.

Wilkins and the majority of the 2,000 convention delegates stayed away from McCarthy's Disorders was only a realization

Soldiers Square Again

Unfortunately, the procrastination continues over what to do with Soldiers Square — downtown Appleton's historical landmark and memorial to the Civil War dead. Soldiers Square has a history older than the city itself, and being located in the center of the community, should be beautified and made more of a focal point. It is unfortunate that for more than two years the City Council has not garnered enough intestinal fortitude to give official approval to the restoration and beautification project for which a pedestrian walk design was prepared by a national consulting firm. The object of the area being converted into a pedestrian walk, complete with streetscaping, greenery and possibly ornamental fountains, is not to be misconstrued as purely a commercial promotion. Those merchants and property owners registering objections to the proposed

A Law Is a Law Is a Law

There has been a lot of campaign oratory in recent months about the need to re-establish respect for law and order. Obviously the riots in our cities and campus demonstrations have triggered the response. But it might be well for all Americans to look more closely at their attitudes toward all laws. Erwin Griswold, United States Solicitor General, pointed out to members of the American Law Institute that American respect for law is not exactly encouraging. The 18th Amendment was repealed primarily because it was flagrantly violated by "our leading and most successful citizens, lawyers, judges, academic people, businessmen, leaders of the community." Today "one of the most pervasive areas of disregard of law in our society is the situation that has arisen out of the omnipresence of the automobile." Speed laws and parking restrictions are widely ignored. More than 60 per cent of accidents occur because a driver was drinking. Even more serious than individual

Teaching Our Language

One of the lesser irritants of our age, to the man or woman with a sensitive ear for the correct use of the English language in speech and writing, is the sloppy speaking of so many of the younger men and women who have had educational advantages far superior to those of their parents and grandparents. It is thus with some regret that we note the impending retirement of a teacher who has devoted his life to preparing other teachers to become more effective instructors in English. He is Prof. Robert Pooley of the staff of the University of Wisconsin at Madison, and we may draw some satisfaction from the fact that his retirement announcement carried a footnote. Although he does not intend to conduct regular classes at Madison in the future, he intends to continue to help teachers of English "to teach better as long as I am able to do so," as he put it. Prof. Pooley is the author of numerous research papers, textbooks and other works on the methodology of English teaching. As a reformer, he has been involved in the abandonment of many of the ancient rules for grammar and sentence structure and during a lifetime, as colleagues have put it, has never relaxed his pursuit of a standard of high quality in the teaching of our native tongue.

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for July 4, 1868.

The hero showman, the indefatigable Barnum is again in the field.

All the living curiosities of his extensive museum, which was destroyed by fire last March in New York City, are to visit the City of Appleton on Monday, July 13th, and exhibit in Adkins Hall during the afternoon and evening.

Among the rare collection of this museum are the celebrated Fat Woman, who has attained the enormous weight of 500 pounds; two surpassingly beautiful Circassian Girls, the only two of their race ever before seen in this country, a Gantees over 8 feet high, a Pickwickian Baby of the extraordinary weight of more than 200 pounds, together with other attractions of an interesting and moral nature.

The admission is only 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children and we predict crowded houses during the continuance of their Levees in our city.

Remember a Levee will be held Monday afternoon, in addition to the evening entertainment in order that the ladies and children may see this most exceptional and pleasing entertainment ever before offered to our community.

These remarkable human curiosities have been on exhibition at Col. Wood's Museum in Chicago very recently and project are not performing what one might refer to as the greatest service to the City of Appleton. While there are some problems, such as ingress and egress for delivery trucks and the need for parking spaces, these are by no means insurmountable and present none of the challenges as did the outstanding College Avenue reconstruction and beautification program. The time has come for city officials to quit toying with the Soldiers Square project as if it were a political ping-pong ball, proceed with plans for developing the entire area as a community showpiece with emphasis on preserving a historical and patriotic monument. The City Council should set example and beautify the entire Soldiers Square area. Creation of a pedestrian walk will undoubtedly trigger major renovation and new construction when it comes to adjacent properties. And this is the way it should be.

violations have been those pushed by legally elected officials, particularly at the state level. "Who authorized those illegal acts? The representative legislatures of many of our states." Federal troops had to be called in two states to enforce the law and "in each case, it was the chief executive officer of the state who was defying the law, supported by large masses of citizens." The trouble with so many Americans is that they protest the breaking of laws in which they believe but they see nothing wrong with breaking other laws themselves. Those who have openly violated statutes which the violators sincerely believed to be immoral at least have the status of moral righteousness. Those who break laws because the laws are immediately inconvenient don't have the same justification. But they have little business shouting for a return to law and order. "In an ordered civilized democratic society, a law is a law is a law," said Mr. Griswold.

A cheerful and imaginative man, Prof. Pooley has insisted that learning good English can be fun, although it is evident from examples all around us that many persons suffered from ineffective teaching when they were students, or didn't enjoy the learning process as much as Mr. Pooley thinks is possible. Dr. Pooley was also one of the chief sponsors of one of the most successful of the innovative programs of modern times for the undergraduate at the University in Madison, in the form of the Integrated Liberal Studies program which he commanded as chairman during its first fifteen years. The ILS, as it is commonly described, was designed to join the talents of the University's most successful teachers to provide freshmen-sophomore students access to the broadest possible liberal arts curriculum. But "Mr English," as one of his colleagues observed, will be best remembered in the educational history of his time for his contribution to the language arts. As Prof. Jarvis Bush, head of the English Department of Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh recently said, he will be remembered as the man who probably did more to improve the curriculum in English and the language in the public and private schools of the state than any man of his time.

there attracted large audiences. Be sure to go see Anna Swan, the tall girl, and the rest of her friends. 25 YEARS AGO Friday, June 25, 1943 Mrs. Theodore St. Aubin was elected president of the Little Chute American Legion Auxiliary. She succeeded Mrs. George J. Verstegen. Mrs. John A. Vanden Heuvel and Mrs. Arnold were elected first and second vice president, respectively. Students to be confirmed at Stephenville Lutheran Church the coming Sunday were LaVerne Gettlinger, LaNora Gettlinger, Helem Lemke, Bernice Lemke, Dorothy Thern and Stanley Voight. Golfers John Hurley, John Dutcher, Clyde Leonard and Frank Shekora were among the experts taking part in the exhibition at the free golfers clinic sponsored by the Appleton Municipal Golfers Association at the Reid course 10 YEARS AGO Friday, June 27, 1958. Mrs. Royal Gooding was general chairman of the family picnic held at Erb Park by the United Commercial Travelers Auxiliary. Assisting on the committee were Mrs. John Heegeman, Mrs. Philip Casper, Mrs. Jack Robertson, Mrs. Ted Freiberg, Mrs. James Hauert, Mrs. William Lemke, Mrs. Harold Prausa, Mrs. Glen Utschig, Mrs. Carl Moderson, Mrs. L. People's Forum
Advocates of Gun Control Laws
Seek Cheap Solutions to Crime

Editor, Post-Crescent: As a social worker with over twelve years of experience I feel qualified to express my thoughts on the current gun controversy. It appears that little logic and a great deal of distortion and misrepresentation has been used. I hope to get at the heart of the matter. Basically, we are concerned with accidents and crime. Suicides will almost certainly occur, whether or not guns are available. Japan, for instance, bans guns almost entirely, but has a high suicide rate. I also remember a man who committed suicide while in a padded cell in one of our state hospitals. Accidents are a problem, but this is being solved, albeit too slowly, by education. A great deal remains to be done, but this is a job which can, and is, being done. Crime has received, most properly, the greatest amount of attention. The trouble is that the problem is very complex and gun control will not touch the heart of the problem, which lies within the individuals. The danger is that people will seize upon a simple "solution," and will be lulled into complacency. It is the equivalent of taking a pill to cure a case of cancer. The result will be that we will neglect what is truly needed. Since I work with delinquent children I can see the need for financial support and expansion of local guidance clinics for a re-establishment of a diagnostic center on a state level, and for a vast expansion of our state schools for boys and girls, to name only a few of our needs. Until these needs are met we will continue to be relatively helpless in caring for the potential criminals, even though we can spot them at an early age. All this takes time and money, which those who seek an easy solution are not willing to spend. Sociologists have studied the problem, and have good reason to believe that the availability of guns has no significant bearing on the incidence of crime. This is borne out by the experience of New York City, which has had extremely restrictive laws for many years, but which has a very high crime rate.

I should also add that local police forces need public support, good pay, good training, and a sufficient number of officers. Those who seek a "cheap" solution are not usually willing to meet this need. I am afraid that the nation is in an emotional mood which does not permit a logical approach to the problem. Symptomatic of this is the gesture of offering guns up as sacrifices to cleanse the givers of their supposed guilt. This is a dramatic gesture, but why do these people not give their guns to some collector to be rendered inoperative and kept for display? This is not done. I am afraid, because of deep, illogical emotional involvement. This is also a significant indication of emotional disturbance. I hope for a quick return to logic and scientific study of our problems.

Are Modern Dairy Methods Really More Efficient?

Editor, The Post-Crescent: As far back as most of us can remember, we have been taught that keeping a dairy herd at close to the peak of production was the most efficient and profitably way to operate a dairy farm. Now when we read of all the 5 to 7 hundred pound dairy herds that have been developed in the last 35 years, and hear of many dairy men feeding up to 40 pounds of grain to get that high production, I am inclined to wonder if in many cases they have not gone past the point of diminishing returns.

I have just read of a successful dairyman in the state, who claims to be feeding from 30-40 pounds of grain to get an average of 544 pounds of butterfat, "mature equivalent." I suppose. Then when I look back 40 years and remember that we used to produce 400 pounds of butterfat "actual," with up to about 14 pounds of grain, I can't help but wonder just how efficient we have become. If we can produce 400 pounds of butterfat "actual," and then have to double our grain ration for 150 pounds of butterfat "mature equivalent," extra, is that becoming more efficient and profitable?

We all know that a cow consuming a large amount of grain will consume less ruffage, at the same time we all know that chances of getting her off feed are greater with grain, than with ruffage, and that throwing a cow off feed is one of our worst problems, and represents a great loss in dairying. Furthermore, it's the grain in a cow's ration that increases the cost.

If I were a young dairyman, I would like to have someone figure that one out for me. It would be at least food for

Wisconsin Report
Idea of Crime Bureau
As Separate Entity Is Not Apt to Get Far

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — The demands by several of the top Republican leaders in the legislature for the divorce of the criminal investigation bureau from the elective office of attorney general will be modified upon reflection. In the passions of the moment, aroused by the curious, to put it mildly, removal of Leroy Dalton from the command of the unit by Attorney General LaFollette, such impulsive responses are perhaps natural enough and especially in a season when opposition candidates are on the alert for every opportunity to grab publicity.

Wyngaard

But whatever the merits of the Dalton controversy, the transfer of his office and responsibilities to an independent agency would be irrelevant.

The attorney general is by definition the state's chief law enforcement officer. He is in charge of prosecutions in general, as the occasion arises in the administration of the state government, as a constitutional officer.

PEOPLE CAN DECIDE
If the Republican charges that partisan interests and influences have been involved in this instance have any substance — and events later may clarify the matter — then the remedy is the remedy that is available for faulty performance in any other elective office. The people can speak at the polls. A vigorous Wisconsin electorate has often shown that it is capable and willing to do so.

If it is assumed that Mr. LaFollette was wrong and that there were extraneous political considerations in the Dalton incident, a more feasible alternative would be to insulate the attorney general's department from party politics altogether by making it an appointive office.

The State Supreme Court, for example, might be trusted to make an unimpeachable selection, if the constitutional arrangements were approved to remove the attorney general from the ballot.

MAY HAVE SUPPORT
There may be some support for such a move, especially in academic circles that have traditionally been critical of the "long ballot," so called, and have repudiated the idea that the test of a democratic society is necessarily or even probably the number of public officials who are directly responsible to the voters at election time.

Yet that is not likely to happen. Some of the most distinguished lawyers of the state have been advocating for years a modification of the elective judiciary without any visible response from the people or from the legislature which would be required to initiate such a change.

No one can seriously claim that the vitality of the democratic idea is involved in the election of such minor and purely ministerial officers as the secretary of state or the state treasurer, on the state level, or at least half of the elective functionaries in the county courthouses. But that idea has been ignored with deadly indifference over the years also.

VOTERS RESENT IMPLICATION

Residents of Wisconsin tend to resent the implication that they are less capable of choosing their public officials than some appointive authority that might be designated.

It is worthy of note also that the civil service tenure rule and tradition of this state provide some protection against outright manipulation of the powers of the attorney general, if, indeed, it is finally shown in the controversy about Mr. Dalton and his collusion with Howard Meister that Mr. LaFollette acted with less than decorum and responsibility.

For Mr. Dalton had the knowledge that he could talk back with impunity, and he did so. He thus turned over his case to the court of public opinion.

There is not the slightest chance that a personnel bureau hearing board would sustain an attempt to dismiss him altogether, even if his superior officer were inclined to do so, which has not been shown. As in so many other aspects of government, full public information tends to be the best guarantee of performance in public places.

right here in Boston, believe it or not.

Do you know what happened last night in our own harbor? You wouldn't believe it. Three ships came into the harbor, from our Mother Country, loaded with tea belonging to the East India Company.

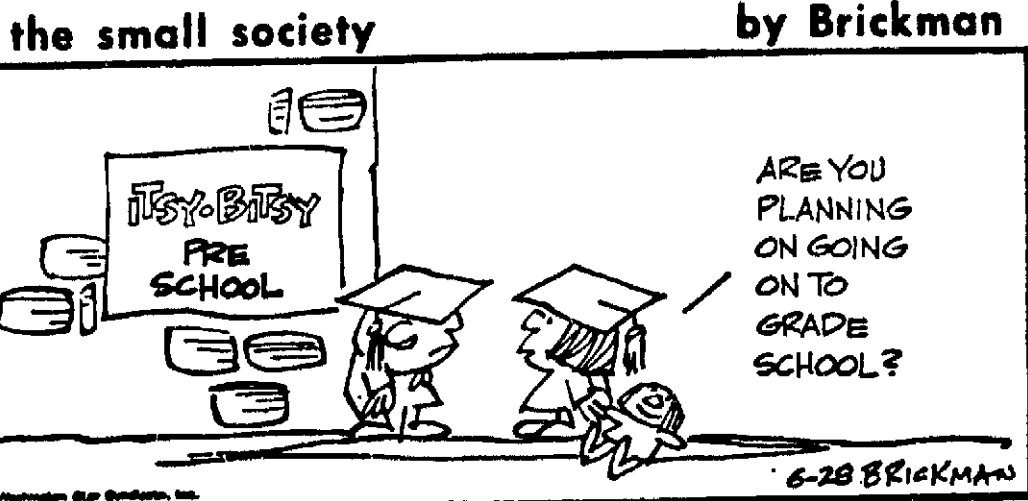

Well, sir, while those ships were riding at anchor, some young hoodlums who call themselves "patriots" — but "scum" is what I call them — went out in little boats and dumped all that tea into the ocean!

And you know who the leaders were? Those rabble-rousers, Paul Revere and Sam Adams! I always said they'd end their careers in jail, and now it looks as if they will. And deserve to.

To make it even worse, they dressed and painted themselves up to look like Indians, thought, and a nice study for a 4-H Club boy. In fact, it would be a nice study for our Democrat senators that are so eager to help the Wisconsin farmers to a bigger profit, just before election. Maybe, they could come up with a new concept that would help them get re-elected, and the dairyman to a larger profit.

Jail Terms
Asked for All Gun Crimes

State Sheriffs'
Recommendations
Sent to Knowles

Mandatory jail sentences for conviction in all crimes involving the use of firearms is one of four recommendations made Wednesday by the legislative committee of the Wisconsin Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriffs Association.

Meeting in Madison, the eight-member state committee also concluded that:

—There is a need for stricter regulations on firearms obtained through mail order houses.

—There should be increased penalties for unlawful use of firearms in the commission of any crime.

Marx Is Member
Outagamie County Sheriff Norbert Marx is co-chairman of the association's legislative committee. Undersheriff Calvin L. Spice is association president.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles asked the association, at its annual summer conference at Lake Delton June 12, to consider the question of state gun control in depth and advise his office as soon as possible. Knowles told the association he did not want to recommend a course of action until he was fully advised about a gun control measure.

Members of the legislative committee, following the all-day meeting, said they intend to devote considerably more study to the gun control proposal and "will keep the Governor's office fully briefed."

Knowles had told the association members at the June conference that special problems could be faced with gun control legislation in Wisconsin because of the large number of licensed hunters.

Permit Validation
Operators Begins

Validation of driver's licenses for Fox Valley motorcycle operators has begun in Appleton according to John Sybdon, license examiner.

New state laws restrict operation of motor driven cycles and scooters to those licensed for cycle operation.

Drivers holding a valid operator's license can have their permit validated for motorcycle operation if they have regularly operated a cycle for at least one year as owner or full-time operator. They must also have driven at least 5,000 miles on a cycle. Validation fee is $2.

Operator tests will be given later for those not meeting validation requirements.

Three People
Hospitalized
In Accidents

Seymour, Appleton
Men, Black Creek
Woman Are Injured

Three persons, including an elderly rural Seymour man, were hospitalized following two accidents in Outagamie County Thursday afternoon and evening.

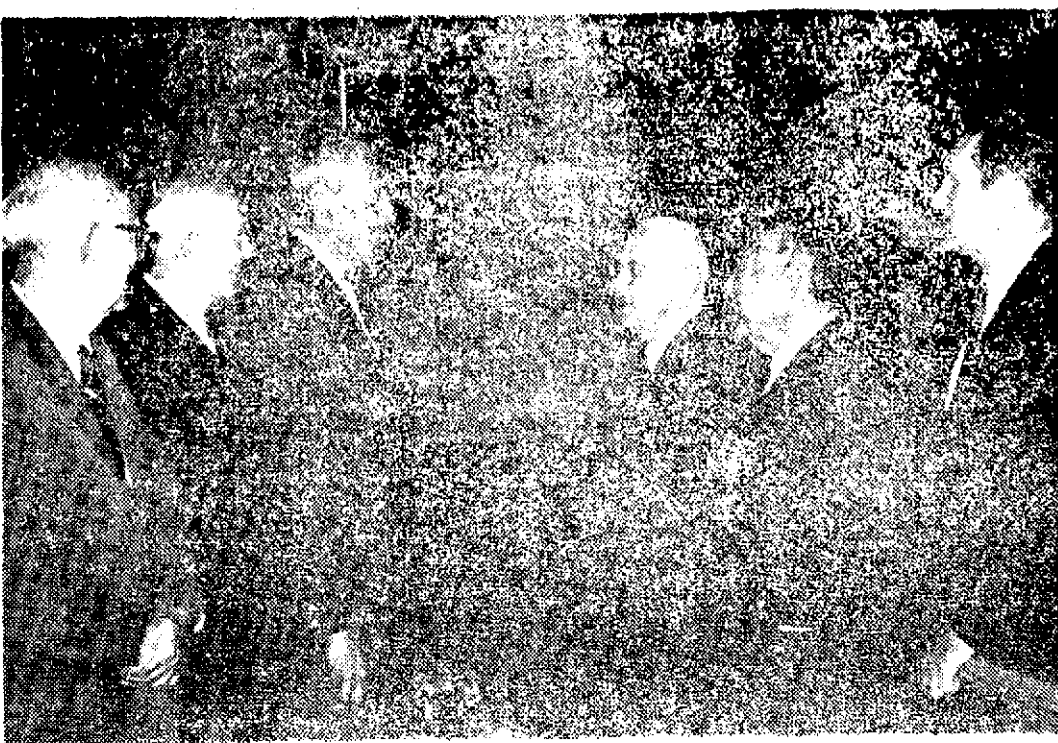

William J. Mullen, 64, route 1, Seymour, and Mrs. Richard Peeters, route 1, Black Creek, were taken by ambulance to Appleton's St. Elizabeth Hospital following a two-car accident about 3 p.m. at County Trunk PP and Stingle Road 12 miles north of Appleton.

Outagamie County police said that Mullen, who was thrown from his car onto the pavement, suffered head lacerations and a right side injury. Mrs. Peeters, who was in a car driven by her 33-year-old husband, complained of back and right side injuries.

Cars Demolished
Police said that Mullen, who was eastbound on Stingle Road, pulled away from a stop sign onto PP into the path of the southbound Peeters car. Both vehicles were demolished.

Michael G. Schroeder, 18, route 1, Appleton, was taken by ambulance to Theda Clark Hospital in Neenah with a nose injury he suffered when his car and one driven by Ella I. Langman, route 2, Manawa, collided at U. S. 45 and U. S. 10, three miles west of Appleton about 10:15 p.m. Thursday.

Police said the Langman car was northbound on 45, turning left onto 10 and the Schroeder car was southbound on 45. A utility pole was broken off as a result of the accident. The fronts of both vehicles were extensively damaged.

The Shelter-Concession building at High Cliff State Park was dedicated in a simple ceremony Thursday. Around the plaque acknowledging a $60,000 donation for the project by George Banta Jr. are Clyde Smith, Campbellsport, area park supervisor; John Wilterding, Men-

Marion System Shows Rise in Reading Ability
MARION — The evaluation of the developmental reading program in the school district this year has been completed.

This is the second year the program has operated in the system with the support of federal aids.

In grades 1-6, the reading classes were taught by Beverly Smith and Mrs. Joyce Nelson. Mrs. Lila Peterson was in charge of the reading laboratory and program in grades seven, eight and high school.

Elementary level classes were conducted at Leonolis, Caroline, Marion and Big Falls. Sixty pupils showed an average gain of 1.1 years during the past school year. This is especially satisfying when it is considered that these pupils were unable to make normal gains in regular reading classes, authorities said.

The reading classes are continued under the same teachers during four weeks in the summer.

About Fox River

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers today warned boaters to be aware of the strong currents now prevalent in the Fox River.

The ceremony, originally planned for out of doors was conducted inside the multi-purpose room around a brilliant fire lighted in the central copper clad fireplace, due to the rain. A slight delay was caused when Natural Resource Development officials were forced to land at Green Bay instead of the Outagamie County airport in Appleton.

Speakers paid tribute to Clyde Smith, area supervisors of state parks from Campbellsport for his part in the development of High Cliff. The main building is constructed for year round use and is available to private parties for a charge of $14. Reservations must be made with the park manager.

WAUPACA — James D. Craig, 21, Royaltown, pleaded guilty to speeding 90 miles an hour in a 55 zone Thursday and was fined $150 and costs.

When he appeared in Municipal Justice Court, his driver's license was suspended 30 days by Justice George Whalen.

Craig was arrested by Waupaca County Police June 4 in the town of Royaltown. Lions Install Officers During Marion Outing
MARION — James Milbauer, outgoing Lions president, installed new officers when the club conducted its annual cook-out and ladies night Tuesday at the Circle J Ranch.

New officers are Leon Rades, president; Don Raisler, first vice president; Jim Hopkins Jr., second vice president; Eugene Fischer, third vice president; Larry Schuster, secretary; Ken Schwede, treasurer; Tom Brantz, tail twister; and Ken Halgap, Lion tamer.

Threaten Legal Action

Supervisors Demand
Radio System Repair

Angered over what they considered to be continuous and unresolved major problems with the 1½ year old $50,000 police communication system, the Outagamie County Board's law enforcement committee Thursday threatened to sue Motorola Inc. if the radio manufacturer until given by the company.

Spice said the county can not go on operating on the city police frequency because of the crowded airwave condition it creates. "We don't want to be disturbed" over the service on there, and they (the city) doesn't want us on there," Spice said. Appleton recently installed a police communications setup similar to that installed earlier for the county, but on a different frequency of operation. Spice said Appleton has experienced no problems.

The committee, after hearing complaints, said it would instruct Corp. Counsel A. W. Ponath to inform Motorola officials that they or a "designated sub-contractor" would have the one-year warranty expired, "complete and sole responsibility" to put the radio system back in order by Aug. 31. The letter designates that Motorola must bear the cost of materials and labor, except for "special costs" which would be borne by the county only on prior review.

Kloes suggested that if the radio system has not been restored to proper working condition by Aug. 31, the county might be attempting "use a lawsuit." Several committee members concurred.

Noisy Radio
Both Veitch and Spice said the county's radio system was a "noisy" to the point that it could not now be used. The committee was told that much of the transmission equipment has been replaced in recent months, but the problem has not been solved.

Supv. Eugene Kloes of Appleton, committee chairman, said that written complaints were filed with Motorola before the one-year warranty expired, "therefore the firm should be responsible for repairing back in order by Aug. 31. The letter designates that Motorola must bear the cost of materials and labor, except for "special costs" which would be borne by the county only on prior review.

Kloes suggested that if the radio system has not been restored to proper working condition by Aug. 31, the county might be attempting "use a lawsuit." Several committee members concurred.

No Satisfaction
"We were better off with the old equipment," Undersheriff Calvin L. Spice told the committee. Spice said he had contacted the Motorola Co. a number of times in past months, but has received little satisfaction. He said he was "promised two weeks ago that two men from Chicago would be here soon to get the system in order."

"I've talked to just about everybody at Motorola about this problem," Spice said. The undersheriff quoted from

Helmets Now
Motorcyclists

The windswept look is going out of motorcycling — as helmets become mandatory headgear Monday under state law.

The law outlaws driving or riding a cycle bareheaded — or in a football helmet or an old army "tin hat."

The law also specifies headgear must be worn on the head with a chin strap under the jaw. One state forgot to specify how helmets should be worn and found a cyclist wearing a helmet strapped on his knee.

The law also requires eye protection — either glasses, goggles, a bubble-type shield or windshield attached to a helmet. Although cyclists have voiced bitter opposition to the law, federal statistics show head injuries were leading cause of death in motorcycle crashes last year.

Damage Exceeds $100

IOLA — Damage was estimated at more than $100 in a single-car crash three miles north of here on County Trunk J, late Wednesday afternoon. No injuries were reported.

Clark to Testify

The committee called Atty. Gen Ramsey Clark to testify on the question July 11. But the Justice Department hastened to cite what it called numerous precedents for approving court appointees before a predecessor actually stepped out.

Republican leader Everett M Dirksen, who said he won't sign the Griffin petition but has not taken a public stance on the nominations, said, "It is a fine question. If no vacancy exists there is nothing to fill."

The Griffin forces, however, appeared to attach little importance to the question of whether there is a vacancy.

"The tactic was new to us. We hadn't even thought of it," said a source. "But it could probably mean at the most another exchange of letters between LBJ and Warren" clarifying the point.

Influence for Years

There are 18 signatures on the petition which specifically opposes President Johnson, as an outgoing president, making court appointees that will exert influence for years. This is half the Senate's GOP members, but Griffin forces say some senators are on the fence and others are still considering signing.

It was pointed out that Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., had joined Griffin in opposing any attempt by Johnson to name a new chief justice immediately after the first reports last week that Warren was stepping down.

Tower, a fellow Texan of Thornberry, has not signed the petition. But Griffin forces expect him to vote with them if it comes to that.

Mansfield, answering questions from United Nations correspondents on a speechmaking trip to New York, raised the possibility that Warren could be forced to stay on indefinitely as chief justice if the nomination is blocked.

"There's always that very strong possibility if an impasse should develop in the Senate," he said.

Cloture, Filibuster

Referring to the petition signers, Eastland commented in Washington "Will they vote against cloture (the rule to shut off prolonged debate)? Will they filibuster? I don't know. I just don't know."

Eastland declined to say what his position was, but as a Southern Democrat he is part of the bloc that has criticized the court's liberal decisions.

Griffin forces said they have been approached by Southern Democrats whom they expect to vote with them as well as Northern Democrats. They don't expect Northerners to vote with them, but they could provide behind the scenes support.

Common Practice

In an attempt to refute the argument that no vacancy exists on the court, Deputy Atty. Gen. Warren M. Christopher told a news conference it is common practice to accept resignations or retirements of judges on the condition they remain in office until a successor is named.

Christopher produced an exchange of letters showing that Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., one of those who pressed the vacancy question in the Judiciary Committee, had asked Johnson to make just such an appointment of a district judge in North Carolina in the past few months.

There were three other developments Thursday relating to the controversy:

—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller defended Johnson's appointments and said he could not understand the criticism by Richard M. Nixon and other prominent Republicans.

"The President, under the Constitution, has a responsibility to make the appointments," Rockefeller said while campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination in Sioux City, Iowa.

—Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., one of the signers of Griffin's petition, said the people "would have far greater confidence in the Supreme Court if any appointments had been delayed until after a new president takes office."

Wisconsin's William Proxmire echoed the sentiments of Democratic colleagues Clairborne Pell, R. I., and Edmund S. Muskie, Me., when he said some senators have to be reminded "that as long as America has a president he has an obligation to fulfill the functions of his office."

—A joint resolution calling for a constitutional amendment to require reconfirmation of Supreme Court justices every six years was introduced in the House by Rep. William O. Cowger, R-Ky.

"I feel an urgent necessity to introduce this resolution because the Supreme Court has established itself as a second legislative branch completely frustrating the will of the people as it is supposed to be expressed through the Congress," he said.

Vietnamese Pilot Asks Asylum in Cambodia

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — A 25-year-old South Vietnamese pilot landed a helicopter in Phnom Penh Thursday and asked for political asylum, Cambodian authorities said today.

The pilot, identified as Lt. Nguyen Duy The, was quoted as saying he took off from Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airbase.

The Rev. Ralph Abernathy, jailed leader of the Poor People's Campaign, announced Thursday the nation will see more Resurrection Cities. Barred windows of the rotunda of the Washington jail are behind Abernathy, currently serving a 20-day term. (AP Wirephoto)

Poor to Push Standards At Political Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Resurrection Cities "will spring up all over the country, including Washington." The original Resurrection City was the shantytown which housed campaign demonstrators from mid-May until this past Monday, when the demonstrators were evicted from their plywood huts after their government-issued permit ran out.

Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which runs the Campaign, spoke Thursday during a jailhouse news conference. Abernathy was sentenced to 20 days in jail Tuesday after pleading no contest to the charge that he violated laws against demonstrating on Capitol grounds.

He said he will take no solid food while in jail, just fruit juices and medicine. The fast will give him spiritual strength to carry on the work of the Poor People's Campaign, he said.

The campaign, he said, will press its views to the platform committees of the national conventions in August.

Abernathy also predicted, without elaborating, that new

Warren Assesses His Years

Court Tried to Meet Today's Problems

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren says he would like the 15 "Warren years" of the U.S. Supreme Court recorded "as an honest effort to meet the problems of our day."

The 77-year-old jurist reflected on his term as chief justice during an interview on radio and television Thursday and commented:

—Criticism and dissent are healthy for the court and the entire system of American government. "I wouldn't want to take the Supreme Court out of controversy." But he said some attacks on the court have been "outlandish."

—Critics of the Warren Commission investigation into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy have failed to develop facts "contrary to the findings of the commission."

—Controversial civil rights issues have come to the court; the court has not deliberately sought them out.

—He is not personally bothered by billboards put up in some parts of the country during the past several years calling for his impeachment. "I learned to accept criticism as well as praise."

Warren was interviewed by reporters for radio station KFBK and television station KQVR during a brief visit Thursday to Sacramento, where Warren served 10 years as the state's Republican governor before being appointed chief justice by President Eisenhower.

Unjustified Criticism

He ate lunch at a country club with old friends and returned to San Francisco. The justice did not discuss specific cases.

Warren labeled as "unjustified" some attempts to discredit the Warren Commission's finding that Lee Harvey Oswald assassinated Kennedy. This, he said, did not apply to criticism or dissent on the report. "That is perfectly proper."

But in examining the reaction from the commission's critics the past two years, Warren said, "I haven't heard or read of one single fact that has been developed contrary to the findings of the commission up to this date."

Warren rejected the argument of some court critics that it has injected itself into civil rights controversies.

Nature of Appeal

"There are a great many people who are of the opinion that if the Supreme Court doesn't like something, it just reaches out and takes the issue and brings it to the Supreme Court."

"Well, that's the farthest thing from the truth. Every case that we have starts in a trial court or the state courts. The case progresses through them until eventually it comes to us."

"When it does come to us, it's usually of a very controversial nature and our decision therefore becomes controversial because... somebody has to win and somebody has to lose."

Don't Neglect Slipping FALSE TEETH

Do false teeth drop, slip or wobble when you talk, eat, laugh or sneeze? Don't be annoyed and embarrassed by such handicaps. FASTEETH, an alkaline (non-acid) powder to sprinkle on your plates, keeps false teeth more firmly set. Gives confident feeling of security and added comfort. No gummy, soapy taste or feeling. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

Vietnam Amputee Trying to Prove He Still Can be Police Detective

ST. LOUIS (AP) — When Hubert Bankhead walks before the St. Louis police board next week he hopes to convince them that just because a guy lost part of his leg in Vietnam is no reason he can't once again be a police detective.

The board will be faced with an unusual request. But Bankhead, a 26-year-old Negro, is an unusual man.

The first day he got his artificial leg he strapped it on and walked out of Fitzsimmons Army Hospital in Denver, Colo. "I just made up my mind to do it," he said.

Bankhead is one of seven children raised on a farm near Wyatt, Mo. He graduated in 1961 with a degree in mathematics from Missouri University. After a stint as an Army officer, he joined the St. Louis Police Department.

He was promoted to detective in his first year but was called back into military service in 1965 because of his special training in code analysis.

As commander of a Special Forces team he performed classified missions in Vietnam he cannot discuss. Then he became a pilot, flew 27 photo-reconnaissance missions and was shot down four times. The last time was over North Vietnam with a tective, he feels he could be effective in community relations, juvenile work or as an instructor. But he does not want a desk job.

"I know I can do it," he said softly. "I hope they see it that men had to wait 36 hours in the jungle before being picked up by a helicopter. The right leg had to be amputated below the knee."

Bankhead has had his new leg for about three weeks. He said it takes six months for the average amputee to learn how to use a new limb. But the former high school athlete and holder of the Black Belt in judo and karate, has already run with his. He uses a cane to help strengthen the good leg.

Bankhead's police work earned him several citations. If he can't be reinstated as a detective, he feels he could be effective in community relations, juvenile work or as an instructor. But he does not want a desk job.

"I know I can do it," he said softly. "I hope they see it that men had to wait 36 hours in the jungle before being picked up

Children's High Fever Should Have Attention

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My 5-year-old son had a temperature of 105 degrees and someone said that that was impossible. The temperature was taken rectally and read 106, so I knocked off a point.

They said at 104 it caused brain damage and would cause death at 105. What is the truth? — Mrs. J.D.

Any such temperature in an adult would, of course, be a grave sign — but it would not necessarily indicate what your friend said.

Infants and small children may run a very high temperature when ill and often be over it again in a very short time.

with no consequences.

I do not, of course, mean that a high fever should be taken casually. It requires calm treatment.

You were right in deducting one degree from your reading; rectal temperature runs approximately one degree higher than oral.

Brain damage is not always a sequel to high fever. If any occurs, it is more likely due to the underlying causative factor — the virus or germ that has brought on the fever.

When a child does have a fever in that range, efforts should be made to lower it by sponging the youngster with tepid water, with alcohol rubs, or sometimes an enema of tepid water.

Dear Dr. Molner: I would like some information on mononucleosis. Hasn't it been called "the kissing disease"? Is it contagious? The doctor told me there is no known cure, but he didn't tell me what causes it. — Mrs. J.L.C.

You'll find the answers you want in my booklet, "Mononucleosis: What It Is: What To Do." For a copy, send 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner, care of The Post-Crescent. Briefly, it is contagious, probably caused by an elusive virus.

There is no known cure, but, like the common cold, it is self-limited, meaning that in time it wears itself out. Best treatment consists of precautions to avoid complications and medication to ease such uncomfortable symptoms as may appear, which vary.

Mono has been called "kissing disease" because it mainly affects teen-agers or young adults who are presumed to be at the kissing age — but the disease also spreads among groups of a single sex (as in schools, barracks, camps, etc.). Obviously casual contact, other than kissing, accounts for its spread.

Dear Dr. Molner: My baby is three months old and seems normal in every way except that one of his nipples isn't developed. The doctor told me this is due to an undeveloped muscle. I keep wondering how it will affect his life. Are my fears something to worry about? — Mrs. E.Z.

I doubt it, but I would favor having him seen by a pediatrician. Faulty development of a muscle can cause flattening of the breast area, but if the little fellow is moving his arm normally, I would expect things to be all right in that respect.

I have known of young men being the objects of a mild curiosity for a similar reason when they were examined for Army induction. The ones I knew of were accepted, and went through their Army training and service without trouble.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it true that orange juice stored uncovered in the refrigerator loses its vitamin content? — H.K.

Yes, there will be some loss of Vitamin C in an uncovered container. Also loss from just standing. Juice should be used as promptly as convenient.

Lovelier You

Summer Hairdo

A Lovely writes: My hair is quite long. It swings several inches below my shoulders. And I intend to keep it that way. Short curly styles are not my dish. There's just one problem — when the weather is hot I like to get my hair off my neck. But I'm no good at piling it up. Suggestions, please.

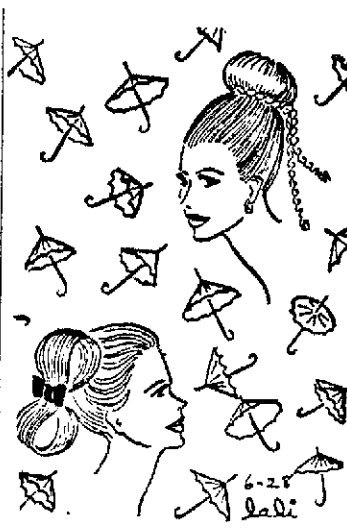

The Answer: Long hair can be styled many ways. That's one of its charms. Arrangements are easier to do and stay better if you use a circle clip as a base. The gadget is found in mock tortoise shell at drug-stores and notion counters. It is equipped with rounded teeth which lock the body of the hair in place.

Two newswy arrangements call for brushing the hair straight up from the hairline all around the head. When satin-smooth, the hair is clipped smack on the crown. The free ends can then be treated in two ways:

a) You can roll them into a soft, round cushion — roll backwards to form a pouf, join sides of pouf with pins in the back, secure all squarely atop the head. For fun, ring with twists of wool or gold cords.

b) Divide loose hair crosswise into two sections. Roll upper section backward so as to create two bouncy coils and then pin down all edges. Tucked between the coils a small flower or bow looks marvy.

Is your hair a problem, Miss

Teen? Then send for my leaflet, "Teen Tresses, Model Type." It tells how to correct such ailments as oily hair and flaky scalp; fly-away, unmanageable, lackluster locks. Included, too, are styling tips and model grooming quickies. For your copy write to Mary Sue Miller in care of The Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Read Bids To Make Contract

When you're doubled at a low contract it's important to know which opponent has the trumps. You play the hand one way if the trumps are stacked at your right and another way if they're at your left.

Opening lead — ♠ 10

South knew that East's double of two spades was a belated takeout double, based on reasonable high-card strength and good support for the unbid suits. West had made a "penalty pass," showing length and strength in spades. South therefore knew it would do him no good to lead a trump to the ace and then return a trump from dummy.

East won the first trick with the ace of clubs and returned the seven of clubs to the king. South promptly led his singleton king of hearts. Perhaps he would have stolen a trick with the king of hearts if he had led the suit from dummy, but South desperately needed ruffing tricks and didn't need a heart trick.

Ruffs Hearts

East won with the ace of hearts and led his other club to the queen. Now South led a trump to the ace and ruffed a heart. He continued with the ace of diamonds and a diamond to the king. The diamond finesse was both risky and unnecessary.

South then ruffed another heart and led his last diamond to get out of his hand. By this time South was reduced to three trumps and the last diamond, while West held three trumps and a club.

West discarded a club on the third round of diamonds, but it didn't help. West had to win the next trick with the ten of spades and then had to lead from the K-J of spades, giving South the last trick with the queen of spades. This was declarer's eighth trick, giving him the game and rubber.

Daily Question

As dealer, you hold: S- 7; H- A J 6 5 4; D- Q 10 7 6; C- A 7 5. What do you say?

ANSWER: Some experts would bid one heart; others would pass. This is a borderline decision and depends partly on your temperament, partly on the nature of your partner and partly on the state of your bank balance.

'The Weather Outside Is Frightful'

Newlyweds Howard and Carol Woodward sit in the pilothouse of their cruiser, appropriately named "honeymooner," as they embark on a voyage to the Gulf of Mexico. The Woodwards, who were married June 22, spent a year remodeling the 50-year old boat. Below, two New York supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy's presidential aspirations are garbed in creations with messages plugging their candidate.

The story this week has been rain — rain — rain. With children home from school for summer vacation, families find themselves staying indoors, turning the furnace on and trying to keep everyone occupied. One can't help but wonder how persons on long-planned camping trips are managing in tents, small trailers and small rented cottages.

Our new Miss Wisconsin, Miss Marilyn Kay Brahmsteadt of La Crosse, was in Milwaukee this week selecting dress material for the wardrobe that is being made for her participation in the Miss American Pageant at Atlantic City.

There were reports in London that the marriage of John Lennon of the Beatles and his wife, Cynthia, is on the rocks. Their lawyers met in London, Tuesday, and after prolonged discussions, the attorneys said, "at the present time there is no statement which can be made."

Makes Debut

Josephine Clay Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buhl Ford II, made her debut into society at Grosse Point Farms, Mich., Saturday evening. Miss Ford is a great-granddaughter of auto pioneer Henry Ford and a niece of Henry Ford II. Her father is an industrial designer and her mother, the only daughter of the late Edsel B. Ford and a sister of Henry Ford II.

Actress Marge Makee plays the only part in a drama that has run for nearly three years with a script that changes every day. She acts from a hospital bed, and often for an audience of one. She never gets applause because she is a "programmed patient" employed by the University of Southern California's School of Medicine as part of the neurology department's teaching program. Miss Makee, who is a veteran actress trained in off-Broadway shows and television programs, studies patients' behavior and then imitates for the students. The project spares the patient the ordeal of frequent examinations because the programmed patient can re-play illnesses until each student learns to recognize the disease.

Jazz Music

bride's father will escort her to the altar and then join the band to play trumpet.

Music will include the Dixieland jazz version of the wedding march, the offertory, Lord's Prayer, communion and recessional. The assistant pastor, who will perform the ceremony, says he favors the jazz music.

Everyone knows that witches wear long skirts, pointed hats and ride brooms. But Mod, Mod Witch Judith Malis rides in a convertible, wears abbreviated dresses, is a wife, mother and a process engineer with an aircraft company in Newport Beach, Calif. The raven haired witch lectured at the Pennsylvania Life and Culture Institute at Lancaster, Pa., and told of a love potion made from clover leaves, honey, rose petals, rosemary and spiderlegs. "This mixture," she said, "is given to the object of one's affections and the couple is tied together for life — there's no getting out of it."

Flying grandmother Mrs. Jerrie Mock, Columbus, Ohio, made record nonstop flight to San Juan, Puerto Rico, and back. Mrs. Mock landed in Columbus at 4:50 p.m. Tuesday, about 35 hours after taking off in her single engined Cessna 206.

Marriage Promises Repeated

Miss Judith Carol Daleiden and William Harvey Shockley III repeated vows of marriage in a June 15 ceremony at St. Pius X Catholic Church. The Rev. Lyle Danen officiated at the 1:30 p.m. double ring rite for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Daleiden, 1407 W. Lindbergh St., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Shockley Jr., 316 River Drive.

Mrs. Gerald Running attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ronald Lenz, Mrs. William Wessel, Miss Kristin Shockley and Miss Carole Pecor.

Ronald Lenz was best man. Tim Shockley, Michael Everts, Steven Landfried and Daniel Jones attended as groomsmen. Guests were seated by Steven Newcombe and Gerald Falk.

The couple greeted guests at Biggar's Motel.

Mrs. Shockley attended the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center and is employed at Lake's School & Office Supply. Her husband will graduate from the UW-Madison in August with a degree in International Relations.

The couple took a wedding trip to northern Wisconsin and are residing in Little Chute.

Ceremony Performed In Hawaii

HONOLULU, Hawaii — Fort Shafter Post Chapel was the setting for the June 19 wedding of Miss Kathryn Ann Marsh and Marvin G. Ankam. The Rev. Francis C. Ford officiated at the double ring rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Marsh, 633 S. Park Ave., Neenah. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Ankam, 215 S. Park Ave., Neenah.

Honor attendants were Mrs. Marsh, the mother of the bride, and Lawrence M. Bickers.

Mrs. Ankam is employed by the Neenah Joint School District. Her husband is stationed with the Army in Vietnam.

Promises Repeated

DALE — Miss Rosalie Selle became the bride of David Melvin Bunnow in a 1 p.m. ceremony June 8 at St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church. The Rev. Erwin Plotz officiated at the double ring rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Selle, route 1, Fremont. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bunnow, 315 Anne St., Kimberly.

Honor attendants were Miss Margie Dyre, Mrs. Melvin Selle, Wayne Darling and Steve Bunnow. James Reiner and Ray Selle seated guests.

The couple resides in La Crosse, where the bridegroom is a senior at Wisconsin State University-LaCrosse.

NEW YORK (AP) — Costumes designed to add "propriety and prudence" to the mini-skirt and fashioned after the garb of nuns and monks are arousing a maxi-controversy.

Clerics aren't mincing any words either.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph T.V. Snee, associate vicar of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New York, suggested that young women—instead of imitating religious fashions—ought to "imitate their habits—especially those of modesty, purity and chastity."

Make No Difference
"Whether it's miniskirts or minihabits," he said, "both are tasteless and indecent."

Holmes, 34, who is a member of the Church of England, explained that his motivations were strictly pious.

"After all the nudity and everything else," he said, "I felt strongly about the complete opposite—propriety and prudence. I had nothing sacrilegious in mind at all."

Customers seem to be giving their approval by purchasing the dresses which sell for $29 without the hood and collar which distinguished them from an ordinary minidress. About half the customers are paying the extra $6 for the hood and collar.

Taste Tempters

Does your cutting board have an onion, garlic or fish odor that annoys you? Cut a lime in two and rub the smelly surface with the cut side of the lime, squeezing it as you rub. Even a vegetable brush or sponge that has been used in the kitchen perks up and loses any odor when dipped in lime juice. Just rinse with tap water afterwards.

Y Sewing Class Will Present Fashion Show

A fashion show entitled "Fun Time Fashion" will be presented Tuesday in the Triangle Inn of the YMCA. Fifty students who have completed a summer sewing class at the Y will model their completed outfits with accessories beginning at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Maxine Vanevenhoven is commentator for the event.

The girls will receive modeling instruction during a rehearsal at 1:30 p.m. Monday. Mrs. Diane Libby, instructor for the sewing classes, has charge of arrangements for the show.

Pair Recalls Wedding Day After 59 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Coon, 712 S. Telulah Ave., will observe their 59th wedding anniversary Saturday with a family dinner.

The couple was married June 29, 1909, at Mrs. Coon's home in Kaukauna.

An amusing incident on their wedding day was recorded in the original newspaper account of the marriage. "During the festivities which followed, the groom, who came to the scene in his automobile, treated the guests to a ride, taking them out by installments and unthought of smuggled the bride away and out of town and so escaped the usual baptism of rice and other kindly meant but altogether too personal attentions."

The trick was neatly turned on the part of the newly-wedded couple, who left their friends to discuss how it all happened that they got left."

Mr. Coon was an employee of Allis-Chalmers-Appleton Plant for 42 years until his retirement.

The couple has three children: Mrs. Ray Crane and Mrs. Bernard Brouillard, Appleton, and Gordon Coon, Oshkosh.

England and Castles come to mind in this bedroom and well they might since their design origins date back to the great Gothic and Tudor eras of 16th century England. The linen-fold design on the headboard is set in a modified Gothic arch. The heavy shaped post with decorative turnings, the arched carving in the arched panels of the doors and the study moldings and shield-like hardware were all popular decorations of the period.

BY CAROL HANSON
Post-Crescent Home Furnishings Editor

New furniture collections as well as fashion trends were introduced at the recent home furnishings markets in Chicago.

Among the new introductions was the Kenilworth group from Thomasville which includes pieces for the living room, dining room and bedroom.

The design origins of the collection date back to the English Gothic and Tudor periods of the 16th and 17th centuries. The Gothic "linen fold" design brought into England from northern Europe in the mid-16th century, became a favorite motif. Today's craftsmen have used the motif in its original simplicity on door panels and headboards.

Carving was used extensively, and varied from simple gulloches to elaborate scrolls and medallions. Beautiful, heavy turnings appeared as table bases, bed posts, pilasters and, in less heavy form, on chairs and sideboards. Arches were everywhere.

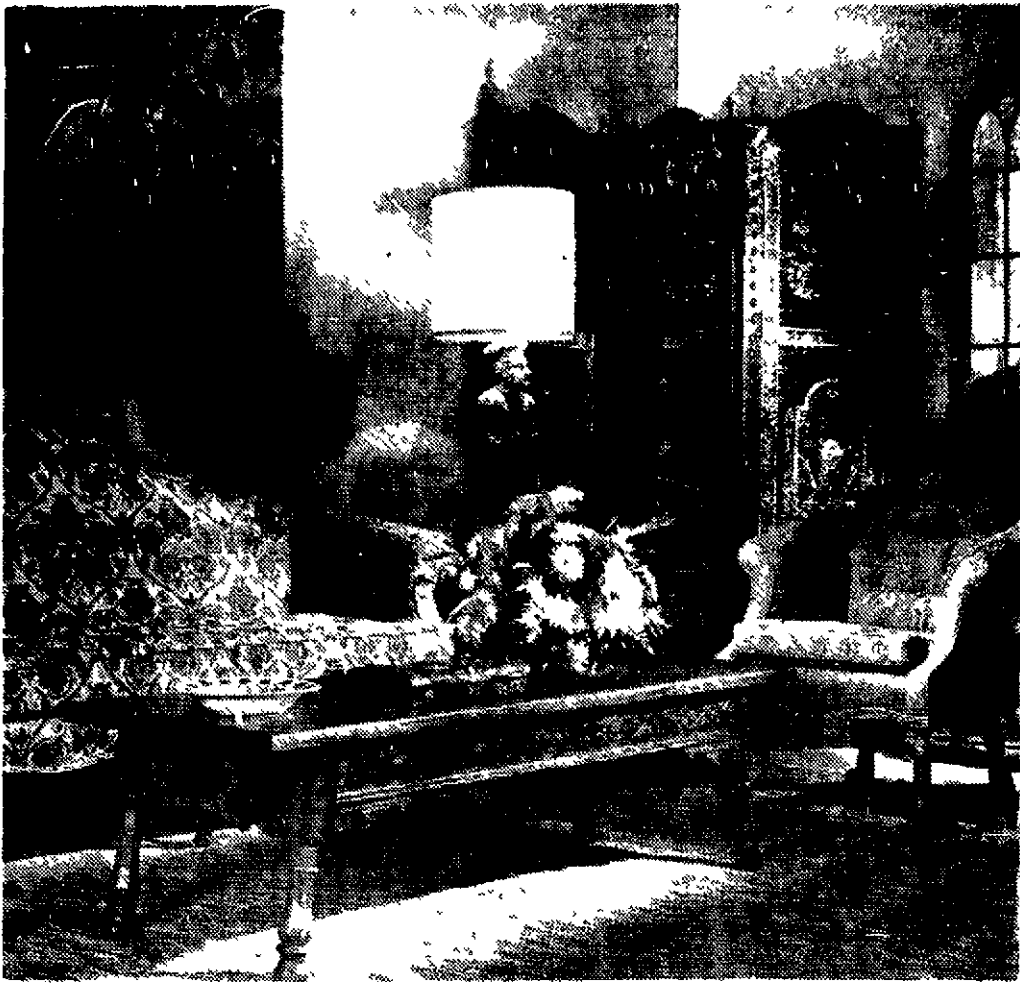

These motifs and others typical of the period have been adapted for this new collection and although pieces have been scaled for today's way of living, they have retained the look of the Tudor period.

Done in oak, as was the original furniture, the wood is finished in a special way.

Brushed with a wire brush to open the grain, it is then rubbed with a grey wax that settles in the grain to emphasize it and give the wood an old mellow look. The overall effect of a medium brown with a grey undertone is characteristic of the style.

In This Comfortable corner the sofa is covered in a tapestry weave fabric in an old traditional design. The colors too have an old look, mostly beige and grey with touches of the palest orangy red and faded green that say "English". The sofa is traditional from no particular period. Chairs also are traditional but emphasize comfort. The coffee table made of oak is such a sturdy design it invites one to put his feet up. At left, a chest has the linen-fold design set in modified Gothic arches of the door panels. The finish gives a mellow "dusty" look. The Windsor chair is available in the same finish as well as red, yellow and green.

Say Vows In Double Ring Rite

During a double ring ceremony Sunday Miss Linda Cecilia Hodie became the bride of Gerald Frederick Wirtz. The Rev. W. H. Gammelin performed the 4 p.m. rite at Zion Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Hodie Manitowish and the late Mr. Hodie. Her husband is the son of Emory Wirtz, route 1, Fremont, and the late Mrs. Wirtz.

Miss Betty Haack attended as maid of honor and Mrs. Joel Peterson and Miss Nicole Schmitz were bridesmaids.

James E. Wirtz, Fremont, was his brother's best man. Groomsman were Arlyn West and Edward McDunn. Roger Schiebel and Michael Hemkel seated guests.

The couple was honored at a reception at Van Abel's, Holmdel.

After a honeymoon in northern Wisconsin the newweds will live in Kimberly.

Miss Wirtz is a graduate of Stout State University, Menomonie, where she was affiliated with Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. She is a home economics teacher at James Madison Junior High School. Her husband is associated with Wirtz's Beverage and Sporting Goods.

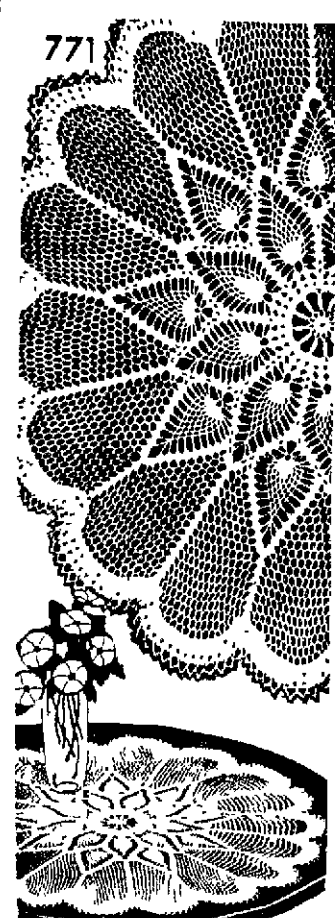

About the House

You can keep the shape of those knit polo shirts by putting small round elastic in the neckbands. Measure the child's head and allow two inches to tie a knot. Then cut a small hole in the underside of the double neck slip the elastic through and tie it. This keeps the shirt from stretching out of shape.

Miniskirt, High Heels New Tools for Police

BY JACK KNEECE

BALTIMORE (AP) — The convertible slowed to a crawl as the young men inside eyed the tall brunette walking mincingly along in high heels and sexy tight skirt.

She ducked into a neighborhood bar to escape the boys, who yelled, "Hey baby—don't go away."

Inside the bar a tall stranger tried to buy her a drink. She politely refused and returned to the street to ply her trade.

Then what she had been awaiting for three weeks happened: a youth darted out of an alley and grabbed her expensive looking leather purse. The youth ran down the street, but as he looked over his shoulder he saw illuminated under the street lights a sight that confounded and scared him.

Hikes Skirt
The brunette had hiked "her" skirt and was covering ground like a hybrid halfback. Soon an iron grip brought the purse snatcher to a halt.

"Don't hit me lady—please don't hit me!" shouted the wide-eyed youth.

"I had to laugh at this point in spite of myself," said William "Buzz" Stephenson, 32. "The kid was scared to death."

Stephenson, who is the athletic father of two children, used to run track at Baltimore's City College. He specialized in the 440-yard dash—"just about the right distance to catch a purse snatcher." He is 5 foot 11 and weighs 140 pounds.

Stephenson is one of five policemen who are walking the Baltimore streets disguised as women in a new project designed to curb purse snatching.

"I've had a million laughs since we started this thing," said Stephenson. "My mother puts on my makeup for me and, though I'm a pretty ugly woman, you'd be surprised how many wolf whistles I get."

"The other day some guys whistled at me and I actually caught myself being flattered—it was a strange feeling but it was flattery because of the effectiveness of my disguise."

"We wear $100 wigs made of Korean hair and believe me they are realistic."

Goes Unrecognized
"The other day a friend of mine stopped and asked me directions. It was a riot—he didn't recognize me."

The men participating in the project have some uproarious stories to tell.

One of them said that after dressing for work he stretched out luxuriously, having a beer when a group of his wife's women friends happened to drop by.

"They didn't know about the new project and you should have seen them. They looked at me and then they looked at each other."

"To sting them along I started to make up my face—you know—lipstick, rouge and the whole bit. My wife had one hell of a time convincing them it was part of my job."

Stephenson says he has only one serious complaint about his work.

Pair Says Wedding Promises

KAUKAUNA — A Barbershop Mass by the Little Chute Barbershoppers Choir provided the background for the Saturday wedding of Miss Barbara Jean Fischer and Lyle Diedrich. The couple repeated vows in a 2 p.m. double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Andrew Linsmever at Holy Cross Catholic Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fischer, 1012 Draper and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Diedrich, 701 Draper St.

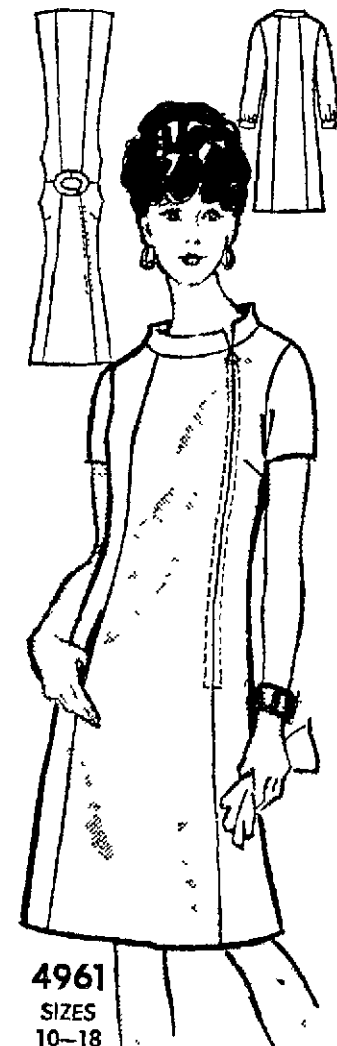

Miss Irene Van Den Heuvel attended as maid of honor. Mrs. Robert Zimmerman was bridesmaid and Miss Deborah Diedrich and Miss Lorie Fischer were junior bridesmaids.

Duane Diedrich was his brother's best man and Robert Zimmerman was groomsman. Guests were seated by Robert Kekula and Gary Van Den Berg.

The couple was honored at a reception at the Combined Locks Pavilion, Combined Locks.

Mr. and Mrs. Diedrich will live in Appleton. The bridegroom, a student at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh, is assistant manager of Park 'N' Market Appleton.

'Resolve All Items' Before Signing, Letter Carriers Told

Robert Dilweg GOP Candidate For Senate Seat

Seeks 2nd District Position Being Vacated by Warren

Robert A. Dilweg, 34, Green Bay, announced today that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination in the state Senate's 2nd District.

Dilweg's candidacy makes it appear likely that there will be a contest for the GOP nomination.

Robert A. Dilweg

tion in September's primary election, Myron Lofth, former Brown County Board chairman, already has announced his candidacy.

The son of the late LaVern R. Dilweg, former 8th District congressman and Green Bay packer, was born and raised in Green Bay and moved to Washington, D.C. when his father was elected to Congress.

The 2nd District seat, which will be vacated by Sen. Robert Warren, Green Bay, who is a Republican candidate for the state attorney general's post, encompasses two-thirds of Brown County, and all of Calumet County which includes the 2nd Precinct of Appleton's 9th Ward.

George Washington Graduate Dilweg attended Marquette University and graduated from George Washington University in Washington, D.C. He is associated with General Electric Co. in an automation consultant position.

"There will be many issues to face in the upcoming campaign," Dilweg said, "but there are several I intend to emphasize — to obtain funds to begin and complete the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, and to pledge my earnest support to campaign against the useless and tragic deaths and injuries on the highways by proposing legislation to save hundreds of lives and thousands of injuries each year."

Dilweg is married and has four children.

State Group Wants Repeal of Strike Ban for Federal Employees

"Do not sign any local agreement or contract, — until all items are resolved," Austin B. Carlson, Minneapolis, field director for the National Association of Letter Carriers, told the group's state convention here today.

About 140 delegates heard him speak at the business meeting in the Conway Motor Inn. About 250 union and auxiliary members are in the conference.

Earlier, the union members approved a resolution to rescind the law barring strikes by government employees saying, "Labor in general seeks redress from poverty level income and unfair labor practices by management."

"Union Organization"

The resolution will be submitted to the national convention Aug. 18, in Boston.

Carlson noted Green Bay was one of the trouble spots for the union, saying letter carriers must be careful in negotiating contracts.

"We are a trade union labor organization," he said, urging that members take part in annual three-day training sessions to assist them in local bargaining conditions.

Charles N. Coyle, assistant secretary-treasurer of the national union, said the group will change in the immediate future.

Many union officials will change positions in elections at the Boston convention and union bargaining tactics may change, he said.

He indicated that "there will be a different impetus on the handling of affairs."

Position 'Damnable'

Coyle called the union position "damnable," saying postal officials often won't talk to negotiators about contracts.

He also said union officials were in need of funds and asked for a raise in dues to $5 per month. "If you don't pay the freight, you won't get the shipment you expect," he said.

Coyle claimed the union membership has not paid for adequate representation at the bargaining table.

Car Taken in Appleton Is Found in Marshfield

A car stolen from a garage in Appleton early today was recovered in Marshfield, where another auto was taken.

Robert Klaus, 822 W. Winnebago St., reported to police at 7 a.m. today that his 1964 Cadillac convertible was taken from his garage after 11 p.m. Thursday.

Police learned later this morning that the car was abandoned in Marshfield.

Ignorance of the Law Judge Drops Charges Against Three Cyclists

Equipment violation charges against three young Appleton motorcyclists were dismissed this morning by Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer, who said that because the laws that apply are "relatively new," he would consider their arrests as "warnings."

The cyclists involved were Thomas W. LaFave, 17, 525½ W. College Ave., arrested for driving without his headlamp operating in the 400 block of Southwest Alley at 7 p.m. June 21; John R. Carlson, 18, 1907 S. Telluride Ave., arrested June 20 at 3:45 p.m. for failing to wear eye protection; and Ronald H. Pingel, 18, 909 N. Sharon St., who was arrested at 12:40 a.m. June 6 in the 100 block of E. College Avenue for failing to wear face shield or glasses.

All of the arrests were made by Appleton police, in compliance with motorcycle equipment laws put into effect several months ago.

Two Plead Guilty

LaFave and Pingel pleaded guilty in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 this morning. Carlson had posted bond and stipulated his guilt.

Schaefer dismissed all three charges when the cases were called this morning. He later told reporters that the law which the youths violated are relatively new and the cyclists apparently are "not sufficiently educated and informed" about the new laws.

He said he regarded their court appearances today as warnings and hoped it would serve to publicize the laws,

Standards of Conduct Proposed Legislative Ethics Code Gets Backing

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

GREEN BAY — A Shawano assemblyman was among several persons supporting a proposed code of ethics for the Wisconsin Legislature during a hearing here Thursday.

A Legislature-appointed subcommittee, headed by Sen. Taylor Benson, D-Franksville, will hold additional hearings next month at Eau Claire, Madison and Milwaukee.

The need for a code of ethics for the state Legislature, which could also be adopted by reference for all elected and appointed public officials in Wisconsin, was voiced by Assemblyman Herbert S. Grover, D-Shawano.

Citing there are several lawyers in the Legislature, Grover told the committee he questioned their representation of clients in practice before state governmental agencies.

Interest Conflict

"They might be putting themselves in the possible position of having a conflict of interest," Grover said.

It was estimated there are about 35 attorneys who are in

Patrol Boat 'Green Bay' To be Built

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — A Navy patrol boat will be called "Green Bay" in honor of the city by the same name, Secretary of the Navy Paul R. Ignatius informed 8th District Rep. John W. Byrnes today.

The gun boat, which will be number PG 101, is to be built by Peterson Builders in Sturgeon Bay.

The Navy secretary told Byrnes that the U.S. ship "Green Bay" will be in a new class of patrol gun boats which, according to the secretary, "will be a most valuable addition to our fleet."

"This well-armed high speed gun boat will be capable of performing counter insurgencies, patrol, blockade, and reconnaissance missions in shallow or restricted waters," Secretary Ignatius said.

The USS Green Bay is scheduled for launching in the spring of 1969, Byrnes said.

For All Officials

Ethics Code Gets Buckley's Support

GREEN BAY — Mayor George Buckley of Appleton called for a code of ethics for all public officials at a legislative hearing Thursday.

Buckley and Mayor Donald Tileman of Green Bay were the only chief executives of Fox Valley cities attending the public hearing conducted at the city hall by a joint subcommittee of the Wisconsin Legislature.

Buckley's suggestion that any code of ethics adopted by the state also be endorsed by all local levels of government was shared by others.

"I am proud of our Wisconsin Legislature and its tradition of honest government," Buckley told the panel of four state lawmakers.

Extend Code

Buckley then told the group he was in accord with the previous testimony of Attorney Richard Cudahy, Milwaukee, that the requirements of the proposed ethics code be extended to all units of government in Wisconsin.

Senator Taylor Benson, D-Franksville, subcommittee

the Legislature — 25 in the Assembly and 10 in the Senate.

Grover took the position that the proposed code of ethics could be a guide for all involved in the legislative process.

"We know you can't legislate a legislator's conscience," commented Benson. "If a legislator feels there is any possibility of conflict of interest, he can abstain from voting and state that if he did cast a ballot he might be leaving himself open to conflict of conscience or interest."

Manual of Conduct

Benson said all the Legislature could do was to come up with a manual of conduct to be enforced within both houses.

The code hearings were born out of John Doe investigations and bribe charges against certain legislators over the past two years.

The proposed code sets the framework for filing a complaint, Benson explained.

"If a complaint is justifiable as shown by the evidence and testimony presented a legislative ethics committee, then the violators should be nailed to the cross," Benson declared.

At one point Grover suggested that members of the Legislature would not have to engage in other business if they served fulltime and received commensurate salaries.

At the same time, however, Benson told Grover changing legislative positions from part-time might result in the loss of the expertise of a cross-section of the state's professional talent, such as lawyers and others.

Expense Money

Benson said the subject of legislators accepting expense money was "a toughie." However, he explained that the ethics code could call for any legislator receiving speaking expenses or honorariums to file a complete list of same monthly with the clerk of the senate or assembly.

The expense declarations would be a matter of public record, he added.

Grover said he would support the proposed code and help make it workable and enforceable, declaring, "Men in the legislative process should at no time be voting with a conflict of conscience or interest."

He and subcommittee members, and others who testified, felt Wisconsin had a record of "clean government" and wanted to maintain that tradition.

The ethics code would prohibit a legislator or legislative employee from:

- Code Provisions
- Accepting any gift, favor or service which may tend to improperly influence him in the discharge of his duties in or for the Legislature.

— Using or attempt to use his official position to obtain special privileges for himself or others.

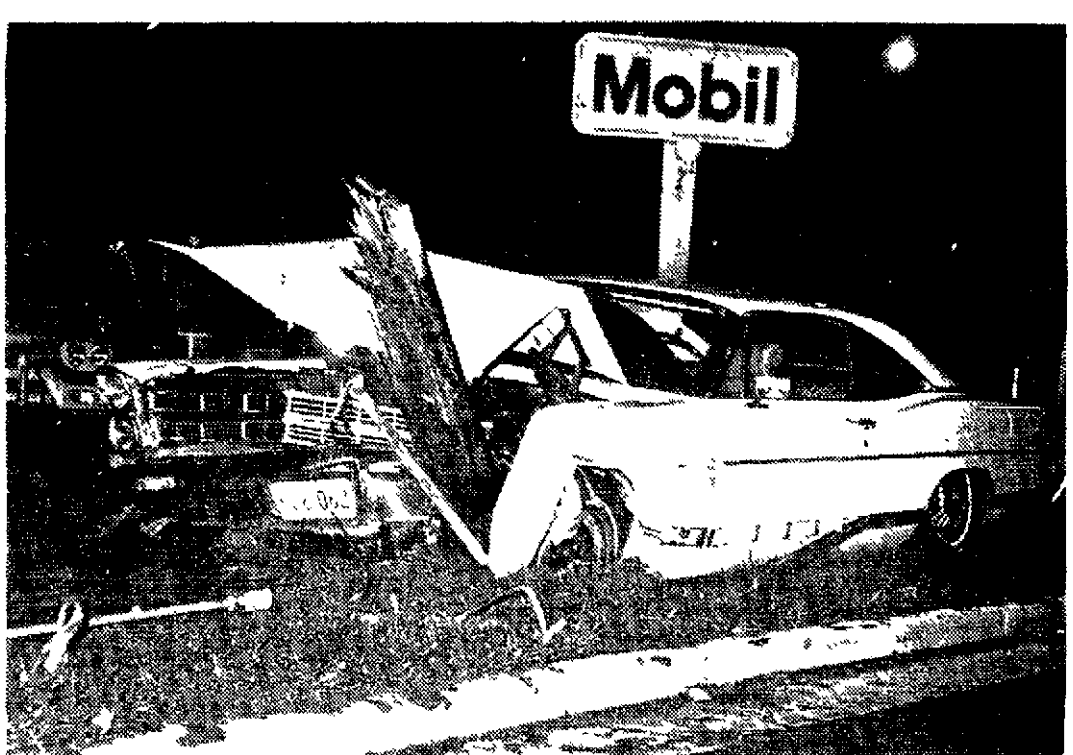

— Disclosing confidential information obtained through his official position or use such information for the personal gain or benefit of himself or others.

— Accepting employment or engaging in any business or activity when a principal duty is to promote or influence legislation.

Charges against a legislator or legislative employee would be sent by registered mail to the official position or use such information for the personal gain or benefit of himself or others.

And no complaint would be deemed properly filed with the Turn to Page 5, Col. 3

Buckley Will Be Prosecutor

Will Handle Case Of License Violation Against Karras Firm

Mayor George Buckley, a former assistant attorney general in Illinois, today found himself in the once familiar role of a prosecutor.

He was appointed an assistant city attorney to try the City of Appleton's case against Karras Restaurant and Caterers.

City Atty. David Geenen said he made the appointment at the request of the mayor.

Buckley, who said he told Geenen in jest one day that he would be available to prosecute if no one else wanted to, accepted the assignment.

The firm was cited May 6 for serving beer at the Reid Municipal Golf Course without having a valid license.

Trial Date

Through attorney Gordon Myse the concession owners — George and Nick Karras — pleaded not guilty and had trial set for Aug. 21 at 2 p.m.

Buckley had originally accompanied Police Chief Earl Wolf to the golf course to make the arrest after receiving complaints.

The concession operators said they were told by the park-recreation commission that it usually got the license and there was no need to obtain one.

Violation of the city ordinance is a misdemeanor.

"I might be a little rusty but I will be happy to try the case," Buckley said.

The mayor said he would have some surprise witnesses to call in the city's behalf.

No Compensation

Geenen reportedly did not want to prosecute because he had some reservation about the strength of the city's case.

In appointing the mayor to prosecute, it was indicated he would do so without compensation.

State DA's Warned About Drug Threat

Association Considers Resolution Which Would Back Le Roy Dalton

Post-Crescent News Service

MARINETTE — Familiarity of drugs and their use was stressed by law enforcement officials at the Wisconsin District Attorneys Association Convention here Thursday. The law officers said drug addiction is a problem in even small communities.

The association was scheduled to conclude its three-day session this afternoon with the possibility it would consider a resolution supporting former Asst. Atty.-Gen. Le Roy Dalton Dalton recently was fired by Atty. Gen. Bronson LaFollette and transferred to the state's Motor Vehicle Department.

Describing the "dreadful and menacing effects of narcotic addiction," Urban Rehberg of the Milwaukee Police Department's narcotics squad told the district attorneys their communities will be affected by narcotics addiction if they are not already.

Lists Responsibility

"All of you are responsible in this narcotics problem. If you want to beat an enemy you have to know it. It becomes a personal responsibility regardless of the size of your unit to know drugs."

He stressed the particular importance of knowing the menace of marijuana addiction, especially now when groups are campaigning to have it legalized.

"Make no mistake Marijuana is a harmful drug. But those who want it legalized are ignoring the fact that India, after traditionally accepting it, outlawed it in 1959 because of its negative effect on its people," Rehberg said.

He cited countries in Africa, which have done likewise including Nigeria, where, after riots by citizens under its influence, the military government established a death penalty for the unauthorized sale of marijuana. "Violent behavior has long been associated with marijuana even though the sociologists who see users when they are on their best behavior think it is not," Rehberg said.

He told the meeting about an Turn to Page 5, Col. 2

Cattle Rustlers Caught Get Along Little Dogies In the Back Seat of Car

Two young cattle rustlers are in the Shawano County hoosegow after being tracked down Thursday by a posse of lawmen from Shawano and Outagamie counties and Seymour.

Outagamie lawmen said this morning that the rural Oneida youths, ages 15 and 17, admitted rustling eight calves from Bonduel Livestock Equity Thursday morning and three Wednesday morning. Another was stolen at an earlier date, investigators said.

The youths, who are neighbors, sold the calves for a total of $476, at Seymour. Investigators said the youths "went on a spending spree" with the money, buying mostly clothing and accessories for their car. They had about $175 left, lawmen said.

The cattle rustling case came to light Thursday after Bonduel "brands" were found on the calves sold at Seymour. The rustlers were tracked down when lawmen learned who the checks were issued to in payment for the stolen cattle.

The boys were taken into custody in Seymour Thursday afternoon, and gave statements during questioning.

It was learned that the boys crowded the stolen calves into the back seat of their car at Bonduel and drove to Seymour for the sale.

Although the boys were placed in juvenile detention at Shawano, they will face court action in Outagamie County, the place of their residence, according to Investigator Joseph VandenOver of the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department.

Bypassing Minor At Sewage Plant

Town, Twin City Facilities Giving At Least First Stage of Treatment

NEENAH-MENASHA — An on-dary treatment facility has a ready deluged with more than capacity of 18 million gallons. Wednesday, the interceptor systems handled 46 million gallons, directly by-passed about half of the incoming waste, put 28 million gallons through the primary system and about 18 million of those gallons made the secondary process. In addition, pumps at several locations in the Twin Cities dumped untreated waste waters into storm sewers and ditches, bringing the total flow to about 65 million gallons.

Town Plant
The Town of Menasha's plant on Airport Road handled 1½ million gallons on Wednesday and fire truck pumps at two locations — Brighton Beach Road and Manitowoc Road — directly bypassed about another 500,000 gallons.

The town's plant has a secondary capacity of 500,000 gallons per day but plans are now on the drawing boards for an addition which would up the capacity to 1½ million gallons. Richard Mentzel, plant operator, said the plant would be "pushing capacity for the next couple of days." He said the town's facility was handling about 700,000 gallons this morning.

High Flows
Basements and streets in the area were starting to return to normal this morning but officials predicted the high flows in the pipelines would continue for a few more days — even if no more rain fell.

A spokesman for the Neenah-Menasha sewage treatment plant said bypassing at the facility had been reduced to a "trickle" this morning but added that the ground was so saturated that high volumes would continue at the plant for a few more days.

At Least Primary
The plant was receiving sewage and storm water at a rate of 25 million gallons per day this morning and almost all of the waste water was at least going through the primary treatment process. The sec-

Froehlich Raps Pay Hikes at University

Speaker Aims at Administrators Playing 'Old Tin-Cup-Tunes'

MADISON — Faculty salary increase demands now being voiced within Wisconsin's higher educational systems are "the old tin-cup-tunes" played every budget session to "warm up" lawmakers toward pay boosts, according to Assembly Speaker Harold V. Froehlich. R-Appleton.

Coupled to the $49.1 million request for pay hikes for the University of Wisconsin and state university systems is the "dirge" that Wisconsin is losing trained faculty members to other states because of low pay scales, he says in the latest issue of his weekly legislative newsletter.

But while administrators raise their salaries to new heights in the school systems, "factory workers, farmers and business people throughout the state, who pay these salaries, must at times wonder what is going on in Madison," he said.

Froehlich, pointing to a $2,000 pay boost to a $47,000-a-year salary for UW Pres. Fred H. Harrington, and the hiring of a head for the UW's anti-poverty program at $32,000 a year, said: "Arguments Don't Stand."

"Some faculty members may be underpaid, but it is obvious that they are not the administrators. The arguments about poor pay do not stand the test when we are weighed against the current increases granted."

Pointing to comments from the President of the UW Board of Regents, Charles D. Gelatt of LaCrosse, that the legislature's refusal to raise taxes last year hurt the UW in competing for good faculty members, Froehlich commented: "This is the old tin-cup-tune that is played prior to each legislative session to warm up the legislators and accustom them to big talk about higher expenditures."

"Along with it comes the concomitant dirge that we are losing faculty members to other states and that the quality of education in Wisconsin is not keeping pace."

"This tune has been played to the Legislature so frequently that it no longer evokes the expected tears from fiscally-minded legislators."

Wants Review
During the last session, Froehlich reminded his readers, a bill received preliminary approval which would have required endorsement by the legislative finance committee of all state salaries topping the governors', $25,000 a year.

The new poverty-program head was appointed to a new post to head a program which could reach a level of three or four million dollars a biennium, at a salary that almost equalled that paid long-time state welfare administrator Wilbur Schmidt, Froehlich said.

Schmidt's department spends more during a biennium than the entire UW system, and the welfare chief heads a staff of more than 8,700 state workers, Froehlich pointed out.

"The inflated salaries for high-ranking administrators at the University again reveal what is going on in the higher education system," he said.

Chest Drive Organizing In Twin Cities

NEENAH-MENASHA — The Community Chest's drive for funds to operate community services during 1969 will be 100 per cent "fair share," will call for a new kind of personal responsibility and will move on an 18 week schedule of hard work.

This is the plan and promise of Douglas F. Graves, president of the National Manufacturers' Bank, who was named general chairman of the 1968 Community Chest campaign today by B. H. Kellogg, president of the Community Chest of Neenah-Menasha.

"We will emphasize fair share and encourage every man and woman in the community to take a hard look at what they can and want to give this community," Graves explained Thursday.

"When we ask for 40 minutes a month as fair share, that is the minimal suggestion. It is our objective to personally explain through our working committees that the money is here and it is the individual's choice as to where he will spend it. We want to make them understand what giving to community services will mean."

Menasha Woman Pleads Innocent Of Exposure
OSHKOSH — Helen McKellip, 28, of 1651 Eugene St., Menasha, pleaded innocent Thursday in County Court Branch 3 to a charge of indecent exposure.

The case was then transferred to circuit court. The defendant, whose professional name is Schmidt, Hurley, was arrested at her home June 20 on a more during a biennium than the entire UW system, and the welfare chief heads a staff of more than 8,700 state workers, Froehlich pointed out.

Hortonville Man Faces Check Forgery Count

Dennis Strong, 21, 110 W. Baake St., Hortonville, was charged Wednesday with forging a $20 check issued April 28 at the Country Aire Bar in the Town of Grand Chute.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer continued the case to Thursday afternoon to allow Strong time to get an attorney. Bond was set at $1,500.

Boy Scout Okay After Injury at High Cliff Park

SHERWOOD — An 11-year-old Boy Scout from Wauwatosa who fell about 40 feet from a cliff in High Cliff State Park while collecting firewood last week is being released today from St. Elizabeth Hospital in Appleton.

The youngster, Jay Kraemer, was on a bicycle trip with 15 Scouts and their leader and had stopped to camp overnight in the state park when the accident happened.

He was rescued from the jagged rocks by park personnel and an ambulance crew with a basket rescue litter. He received a concussion and a broken hand and cannot recall anything leading to the accident, according to park officials who visited him several times while he was hospitalized.

At night, it's a moonroof.

For 90¢ extra dollars you can buy a Volkswagen with a hole in its roof.

As a matter of fact, 390 square inches of hole in the roof.

The VW sunroof, or moonroof, gives you enough space to get a full view of the Milky Way. It's also perfect for satellite searching or counting stars.

If you only want a three-quarter view of what's above, all you have to do is crank the crank a few turns to the left, and you have three-quarters of a hole in the roof.

A few more turns to the left and you've got an airtight, all steel roof overhead. (It's padded and lined like the rest of the car so you can hardly tell it's there.)

A Volkswagen with a hole in its top is just as cheap to run as any other Volkswagen.

So you won't have to moonlight at a second job to afford to run one.

It'll go up to 27 miles on a gallon of gas.

And you don't have to spend a tidy sum getting your car ready for winter. (It won't need anti-freeze, and chances are it won't need snow tires either.)

In short, this Volkswagen does just about everything any other Volkswagen does, plus a little more.

So you see, you don't have to have a hole in your head to buy a Volkswagen with a hole in its head.

Young Hobby Club An Empty Round Cereal Box Makes a Neat Marble Game

BY CAPPY DICK For fun on rainy days when it is advisable to stay indoors, today's marble game is worth trying. It's a moving target game and can be played on the living room carpet or on the kitchen linoleum. You will need three marbles and a round cardboard carton such as an oatmeal box. Remove the cover of the box, but leave the bottom. There must be at least two players, although there may be more. One player rolls the cardboard cylinder on the floor with the open end toward the other player who, equipped with the three marbles, must be at least five feet from the path of the carton. Before the cylinder

Appleton Woman's Proposal New Program Would Aid Teachers of Deaf

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — A training program for teachers of the deaf should be started at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh, state officials have been told by a Fox Valley organization.

The program would increase training opportunities in the specialized field, lower education costs, and draw capable teachers of the deaf to the Fox Valley area, governmental and education leaders have been told.

The proposal has been voiced by Mrs. Harry Paul Jr., of rural Appleton, president of the Deaf Education Aid Fund, a regional group aiming at educational aids for students training to be teachers of the deaf.

New Program
In letters sent to officials of the state university system, the Coordinating Council for Higher Education, and the State Department of Public Instruction, she appealed for the creation of the new program.

At present, she pointed out, only the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee has a teacher training program for instructors of the deaf.

Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh has a well-developed speech department, she pointed out. That program should be expanded to include teacher training for teachers of the deaf.

The Oshkosh School for the Deaf has an enrollment of more than 90 students, and would provide good opportunities for coordinating of teacher training in such a program, Mrs. Paul pointed out.

The DEAF program, she said, to date has been primarily limited to offering tuition scholarships plus small book stipends to students training for such careers. An Oshkosh program

Three People Hospitalized In Accidents

Seymour, Appleton Men, Black Creek Woman Are Injured

Three persons, including an elderly rural Seymour man, were hospitalized following two accidents in Outagamie County Thursday afternoon and evening.

William J. Mullen, 84, route 1, Seymour, and Mrs. Richard Peeters, route 1, Black Creek, were taken by ambulance to Appleton's St. Elizabeth Hospital following a two-car accident about 3 p.m. at County Trunk PP and Stingle Road 12 miles north of Appleton.

Outagamie County police said that Mullen, who was thrown from his car onto the pavement, suffered head lacerations and a right side injury. Mrs. Peeters, who was in a car driven by her 33-year-old husband, complained of back and right side injuries.

Cars Demolished
Police said that Mullen, who was eastbound on Single Road, pulled away from a stop sign onto PP into the path of the southbound Peeters car. Both vehicles were demolished.

Michael G. Schroeder, 18, route 1, Appleton, was taken by ambulance to Theda Clark Hospital in Neenah with a nose injury he suffered when his car and one driven by Ella I. Langman, route 2, Manawa, collided at U. S. 45 and U. S. 10, three miles west of Appleton about 10:15 p.m. Thursday.

Police said the Langman car was northbound on 45, turning left onto 10 and the Schroeder car was southbound on 45. A utility pole was broken off as a result of the accident. The fronts of both vehicles were extensively damaged.

Man Innocent of Traffic Charge

A six-member Outagamie County Court jury deliberated only 25 minutes, Thursday afternoon, before finding Duane Rettler, 22, route 2, Black Creek, innocent of a traffic charge brought by county police.

Rettler had been charged with driving too fast for conditions. The jury heard about a half day of testimony in Court Branch 2.

Hilbert Man Fined Following Accident

KAUKAUNA — David Belongia Jr., 37, Hilbert, pleaded guilty to driving at speeds not reasonable or prudent and was fined $20 Wednesday when arraigned before Municipal Justice Clarence O'Connor.

Belongia was arrested after his car was involved in a one-car accident at Outagamie County Trunks Z and ZZ Sunday.

Public Joins Hands With State Private Donors Lauded at High Cliff Park Dedication

SHERWOOD — Charles Smith, Wausau, lauded the cooperation of local persons, especially the High Cliff Forest Park Association, with the state in the development of High Cliff Park at the dedication Thursday of the new shelter-concession building.

Smith, substituting for Guido Rahr, addressed about 30 persons composed of members of the High Cliff Forest Park Association and the Department of Natural Resources, Conservation Division. Tribute was paid to George Banta Jr. who contributed $60,000 to the project. Smith pointed out that the Association raised $36,000 to reminisced about incidents lead-wards the initial land acquisition to the major developments of the $1.3 spent on the and the pleasure Banta had in state park, 25 per cent had assisting.

Banta Family
"This has surpassed all our hopes and expectations and is a real example of how progress can be made. You did not sit and wait, you joined hands."

He referred to the building as being "more than land, building and work, but it means cooperation of the people in the locality with the state."

Many Funds
The park, approved in 1954, received $21,000 towards key-land acquisition; $5,000 for the first boat launching facility; $12,000 for the bathhouse; $175,000 for the marina and $19,500 for the Red Bird Statue, in addition to the Banta contribution for the building, completed the Outagamie County airport in 1966.

Cost of the complex which includes an open shelter in addition to the main concession building was $118,000 for the base bids, $44,500 for the utility services; $19,000 for terrace and walks and $14,000 for restaurant equipment, totaling $195,500.

Speaking for the Banta Foundation was John Wilterding who park manager.

The ceremony, originally planned for out of doors was conducted inside the multi-purpose room around a brilliant fire lighted in the central cop-clad fireplace, due to the rain. A slight delay was caused when Natural Resource Development officials were forced to land at Green Bay instead of Appleton.

Speakers paid tribute to Clyde Smith, area supervisors of state parks from Campbellsport for his part in the development of High Cliff.

The main building is constructed for year round use and is available to private parties for a charge of $14. Reservations must be made with the Banta Foundation.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Show biz books—

The inexplicable Ed Sullivan gets the full-scale treatment in a new book titled "Always on Sunday" (Meredith Press, $4.95). The volume doesn't quite provide the reason for Stone face's success, but it tells all most everything else the reader

Football in June Rushes '68 Schedule

BY TV SCOUT

7:30-to-Conclusion (Channel 11) — As incredible as it may seem, the football telecast season precedes even the month of July, as the Coaches All-America Game bows in the 1968 schedule of pre - regular-and-post season gridiron play. The debut game is made up of 60 top college players recruited from the All-Star lists and split into East and West squads with John Pont of Indiana coaching the East and Dee Andros of Oregon State the West. Chris Schenkel and Bud Wilkinson call the action. (C)

6:30-7:30 (Channel 11) — Man In A Suitcase is the latest super-spy series to get involved with some psychedelic brain-washing. The focal point to this plot is McGill's memory, conscious or sub-conscious. It has to do with events that took place in Africa while he was with U.S. intelligence. International agents want the information badly enough to pay a fat fee for it to a man who believes he can extract it from McGill's gray matter, voluntarily or otherwise (C)

6:30-7:30 (Channel 2) — A wide-eyed game of hide-and-seek is played on The Wild Wild West with Artemus and a band of outlaws all searching for West. He has suffered a loss of memory from a gunshot wound and doesn't know that he is the object of a hunt. (C)

6:30-7:30 (Channel 5) — Ron Ely joined the list of TV stars turned director with this episode of Tarzan in it the ape man is taken in by a crime syndicate trying to get back a huge sum of money hustled from them. (C-R)

7:30-8:30 (Channel 5) — Anyone who has ever experienced the bloodiness of political infighting will appreciate the predicament of Captain Kirk on Star Trek. It is man vs. machine when the Captain is replaced by a computer during an exercise. (C-R)

7:30-8 (Channel 2) — Sgt. Carter finds himself swinging from the wrong tree on Gomer Pyle USMC when he spots Gomer's picture in a bathing beauty magazine surrounded by a bevy of lovelies. (C-R)

9-10 (Channel 5) — The Visual would need to know about this unique television phenomenon. The Sullivan mystique has been dealt with, usually in a snide way by his detractors. The comments range from Fred Allen's "Ed Sullivan will be a success as long as other people have talent" to John Crosby's "Mr. Sullivan, of course, is notoriously and admittedly without talent" to Harriet Van Horne's "He got where he is not by having a personality but by having no personality; he is the commonest common denominator."

Such comments have gotten under Sullivan's supposedly thick skin. But critics come and go; Ed Sullivan remains. On June 20 he marked the 20th anniversary of his weekly television hour.

Sometime Candid "Always on Sunday" was written by the CBS publicist for the Ed Sullivan Show, Michael David Harris, and thus cannot be counted on for complete objectivity. Yet the biography is sometimes quite candid, as when the author recounts the Sullivan bloopers over the years.

Some of the best: "I'd like to prevent Robert Merrill"; "The fierce Maori tribe from New England"; (for a tuberculosis drive) "Good night and help stamp out TV"; (after a Sergio Franchi Christmas number) "Let's hear it for the Lord's Prayer"...

"The Disney Version" by Richard Schickel (Simon and Schuster, $6.50) is the first full-scale biography to appear since the death of Walt Disney in December 1966. The Disney family and studio declined to cooperate with the author which proved to be both an asset and a liability. Since he was not beholden to the Disneys, Schickel was able to view Walt for what he was: a brilliant but sometimes fallible human being. He could also assess the Disney product, which often leaned too far in the direction of sentiment and commerce. The Schickel version of Walt and his works may seem overly harsh at times, but it is incisive.

Lacking access to firsthand sources—or even illustrations for the book—Schickel is forced to rely on hearsay and long-ago interviews. That is the basic weakness in "The Disney Version". There is no original reporting. But it is a valuable contribution to what will doubtless be a growing collection of Disneyana.

potentials of television have rarely if ever been as well fulfilled as on The Big Little World of Roman Vishniac. Dr. Vishniac is a biologist, zoologist and one of the world's foremost photographers of microscopic life. The program follows the progress of evolution from the first living cells to the living creatures of today. And it's even better the second time around. (C)

The award is given each year at the rodeo in North Platte for outstanding contribution to family entertainment in the tradition of the late Buffalo Bill Cody, originator of the Wild West Show. ## Homeowners Warned To be Wary of Phony Termite Inspectors

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin homeowners were warned the past week to watch out for phony termite inspectors as the summer continues.

Homeowners should be wary of fast talking inspectors who find termites everywhere, who offer extremely low bids for extermination, or salesmen who warn that a home may collapse at any time, Atty. Gen. Bronson La Follette said in a letter to local law enforcement agencies.

He also warned of termite control firms which plan only to spray chemicals in basements and on lawns, saying "these measures simply do not work."

Cash Stolen From Manufacturing Firm

An undetermined amount of petty cash was taken from a desk drawer during a burglary late Wednesday or early Thursday at the Gertsch Manufacturing Co., route 4, Appleton.

Ralph Gertsch, owner of the firm, reported the burglary to the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department about 7:40 a.m. Thursday. Investigators said that entry into the building was gained by breaking a rear door glass. A four-drawer filing cabinet was pried open, but nothing was taken. Investigation was continuing.

Smith Goes to Washington (1939). James Stewart, Jean Arthur. Young man is appointed to Senate seat, finds he has to battle whole political machine to realize his ideals.

2:30 — Channel 11 — "Mayor of 44th Street" (1942). George Murphy, Anne Shirley. A reformed mob leader, now an agent for army bands, has trouble with a paroled, former leader, but aided by some young people, he manages to outsmart him.

Hole-Riddled City Hall Roof Dampens Spirits of Employees

Who said you can't beat city hall?

The weatherman did. The more than four inches of rain soaking the Appleton area within 48 hours did more than dampen the spirits of some city hall employees.

For those working on the second floor where the roof leaks extensively it was akin to being beneath a makeshift shower.

In the department of public works — where residents call in their complaints about flooding and assorted problems — pails were stationed in several offices to catch leaking rain water.

The situation was about the same in the city planner's office where newspaper covered the soaked floor and buckets lined one side of the room.

At its last meeting the board of public works deferred a request to replace the hole-riddled city hall roof with a new one.

Since the board's action it has rained almost daily.

Money Stolen At Gas Station

FREEDOM — About $45 was taken from a cash register and a filing cabinet at Bob Geurts' U. S. Service Station, on State $5 here.

Outagamie County sheriff's investigators said that entry into the station was gained through a south side window. The burglary was discovered when the station was opened Thursday morning. The station had been closed about 9:15 p.m. Wednesday. Investigation is continuing.

Tires, Wheels Stolen From Car in Appleton

Four tires and wheels, valued at $200, were stolen from a 1968 sport car at Sam Malofsky Motor Co., 1850 W. Wisconsin Ave., late Tuesday or early Wednesday. The car was jacked up and blocks were placed under the brake drums, police said.

'Freak Shows' Offend Teen

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A 15-year-old girl's pleas to halt the North Carolina State Fair's annual "freak show" has sparked the opposition of a paraplegic who operates sideshows in Canada.

Carol Grant of Raleigh, who was born with deformed arms and legs, wrote State Agriculture Commissioner Jim Graham last week saying the shows "are degrading and ought to be stopped."

Graham said at the time he would investigate the possibility of eliminating the midway attraction. He said recently he had received a letter from Harvey L. Boswell of Wilson opposing the move.

"I sincerely hope that you do not see fit to cause all of these hard working people to be put out of a living," Boswell said.

Appleton Youth Fined $30 on Traffic Count

Gary Young, 18, 825 W. Eighth St., was fined $30 and costs or seven days in jail Thursday after Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer found him guilty of speeding 64 miles per hour in a 45 zone on E. Wisconsin Avenue in the Town of Grand Chute Oct. 4.

Grand Chute police made the arrest. Trial was held without a jury.

Foxes Resume ML
Play After Chisox
Game Is Cancelled

Their scheduled outing against major league opposition having been foiled by the weather-man, the Appleton Foxes are due to return to Midwest League competition tonight.
Thursday night's Foxes-Chicago White Sox exhibition game at Goodland Field was cancelled because of inclement weather. Rain continued to fall most of the day on already waterlogged Goodland Field, and finally, at around 2 p.m., Chisox and Foxes officials "threw in the sponge." Up until that time, the grounds crew worked feverishly on the diamond, hoping that, somehow, the game could be played.
At 7:45 p.m. today, the Foxes are scheduled to open their final series of the Midwest League's first round. Dubuque will invade Goodland Field tonight and Saturday night.
Because Thursday was the only date the White Sox had available for the exhibition game with the Foxes, the contest cannot be re-scheduled this year. However, White Sox General Manager Ed Short was so impressed by the all-out effort the Foxes made to get this game in that he told Appleton officials the Chisox would set a definite date for a 1969 exhibition game and would also make room for a rain date.
No refunds will be made on advance Foxes-White Sox tickets which were purchased — as stipulated by the ball club at the time the sale started. Each holder of an advance ticket will be able to use the ducat for four regular-season Foxes games.

Injuries May Hamper West

Andros, Pont Feel They're Shorthanded
ATLANTA (AP) — Both ticularly at end and in the back-coaches in the eighth annual field," Andros added.
Coaches All-America game say East Coach John Pont of Indiana agreed. "We need more reserves, not so much in the offensive line, but particularly among the backs and ends," he said. "I'm going to recommend that they add a couple more players to the size of next year's team."
Eber, Dyer Hurt
On the West squad, flanker Rick Eber of Tulsa is bothered by a stone-bruise and defensive back Ken Dyer of Arizona State has suffered a pulled muscle.
Andros said he wasn't too worried about Dyer, since trainer Buck Andel had told him Dyer should be ready by today. "But I'm really worried about Eber," Andros said.
"He got hurt the first day of practice, and the fact that he's even working at all is amazing. He says he'll be ready but I don't know."
If one or both can't go, Andros will probably have to move monster man Dick Anderson of Colorado over to offense and replace him in the defensive unit with Oregon State's Bill Vandenburg.

NFL Players and Owners
Meet Amid Strike Talk

DETROIT (AP) — Strike talk was in the air today as National Football League players' and owners' representatives arrived in Detroit for a negotiating session.
The Associated Press learned Thursday night that NFL players have voted to strike unless owners grant demands for a higher minimum salary, improved pension plans and higher exhibition game pay.
All 640 NFL players were contacted in a telephone poll and a vast majority of them voted to authorize a strike, it was learned.
Detroit Lions owner William Clay Ford said today's meeting is a regular meeting between the players' association and

Mets Trim Astros

Versalles' Homer
In 11th Shatters
Marichal's Streak

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Here come the Mets! Again! New York's grown-up expansion babes soared within a stride of hitherto unreachable heights Thursday night ... for the fifth time this month ... by trimming Houston 3-1 behind right-handers Don Cardwell and Ron Taylor.
The victory put the Mets' season record at 35-36. They never have reached the .500 level, after the first week, in any of their previous six National League seasons. But for the past two weeks it's been touch and go.
A four-game winning streak brought the Mets within a step of the elusive break-even point on June 14. The next day they rattled 16 hits off San Francisco's Juan Marichal ... and lost 9-5.
Last Saturday, Gil Hodges' youngsters were knocking at the door again, but Los Angeles' Don Drysdale applied the brakes. Then, two shots at 500 in Cincinnati this week became a pair of one-run losses.
Ryan to Pitch
Tonight in the Astrodome, Nolan Ryan, a 21-year-old rookie with a 6-5 record and speed to burn, leads the uphill assault against last-place Houston and fireballer Larry Dierker, 7-10 on the season.
In Thursday's only other NL games, Los Angeles nipped San Francisco 6-5 on Zoilo Versalles' 11th-inning homer, ending Marichal's personal winning streak at 10 games, and Atlanta shaded Philadelphia 4-3 under the lights as brothers Hank and Tommie Aaron combined to drive in three runs.
Cardwell, who went into the Houston game with six straight setbacks and a 1-8 record, blanked the Astros for seven innings before leaving under fire in the eighth. With one run in,

Five Packers
Say They
OK Walkout

GREEN BAY (AP) — Some members of the Green Bay Packers say they endorsed a proposal by a National Football League players' group to strike unless salary demands are met.
Bob Schulze, sports director for WFRV-TV of Green Bay, said he contacted five Packers after Thursday night's strike announcement in Philadelphia, and that all of them said they had agreed to a walkout when polled by the Players Association.
The players asked that they not be identified. One of them told Schulze, he expects a strike during the training season, but not necessarily during the regular season.
"Of course I voted yes," Schulze quoted another as saying. "If you don't vote yes to go along with the association, what's the use of having one in the first place?"
Dave Robinson, the Packers representative in the association, was reported to have left Thursday for Detroit to attend a meeting with management concerning players' demands.

No Repeaters

McClain, McDowell, Stottlemire Head List of 7 Hurlers

BOSTON (AP) — New Faces of 1968 could well be the name for the youthful and relatively inexperienced pitching corps which will represent the American League in the All-Star game at Houston July 9.
Not a single repeater from 1967 was on the seven-man staff named Thursday by Manager Dick Williams. Four were chosen for the first time in their careers, while the other three—Denry McLain of Detroit, Sam McDowell of Cleveland and Mel Stottlemire of New York—have hurled in just one previous classic each.
The quartet of newcomers includes Jose Santiago of Williams' own defending champion Boston Red Sox, Luis Tiant of Cleveland, Tommy John of Chicago and John Odom of Oakland.
Odom Youngest
Santiago, 27, is the oldest member of the staff. Odom, who turned 23 last month, is the youngest.
McLain, the league's big winner with a 13-2 record, was the starting pitcher the only other time he was selected in 1966, hurling three perfect innings.
McDowell, 7-6, pitched two innings in the 1965 game, giving up one run in taking the 6-5 loss. The fireballing left-hander also was selected in 1966, but had arm trouble and was replaced on the squad by teammate Sonny Siebert.
Stottlemire, 9-4, was picked

Mets' Fold

HOUSTON (AP) — The New York Mets, who had first pick in baseball's free agent draft, signed their No. 1 choice, Tim Lincecum, a 17-year-old shortstop, Thursday. He reportedly received a bonus of around $75,000.
Foli, who stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 180, batted .574 for Notre Dame High School in Sherman Oaks, Calif. He lives in Canoga Park, Calif.
Foli, star in football as well as baseball, was sought by the University of Southern California, Notre Dame and many other colleges.

Twins Blank Orioles
Unearned Runs Sink Indians

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Sam McDowell was fine as long as he was throwing strikes. It was only when he let the Red Sox hit the ball that he got in trouble.
McDowell, selected as a member of the American League All-Star pitching staff earlier in the day, struck out the side in the first inning against Boston Thursday night. But in between the Red Sox scored six unearned runs on their way to a 9-3 romp over Cleveland.
In the only other American League game played, Minnesota blanked Baltimore 2-0 in a game ended by rain after five innings.
Joe Foy opened the Red Sox first against McDowell with a bloop single and raced to third when Larry Brown threw wild on Jerry Adair's grounder. McDowell struck out Carl Yastrzemski but Ken Harrelson stroked the first of his three hits, scoring Foy.
Second Error
Brown's second error of the inning gave Boston another run and Rico Petrocelli singled for the third one. George Scott struck out but Russ Gibson walked, loading the bases and Jose Santiago singled for two runs. McDowell wild pitched the sixth run in and walked Foy before fanning Adair for the third out.
Santiago, also an All-Star, worked five innings before leaving with a slight soreness in his right elbow. He got his ninth victory in 13 decisions.
McDowell lasted 2-13 innings,

Harrelson raised his league leading average to .322 with his three hits, driving in two runs and scoring another.
Move Into Second

Disciplinary Measure

College Athletic Scholarships May be Limited to Single Year

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Limiting athletic scholarships to one year as a possible means of disciplining college athletes was recommended Thursday by the Collegiate Commissioners Association.

The group, commissioners of the 11 major college athletic conferences, wound up a four-day meeting and issued a statement saying it made the recommendation to the National Collegiate Athletic Association by divided vote.

Bill Reed, Big Ten commissioner and outgoing president of the group, said conferences vary in their awarding of scholarships, some giving them for four years and some for one.

"This is a delicate issue," he said. "Scholarships shouldn't be taken away because an athlete doesn't produce up to expectations."

But, he said, the commissioners agreed on the need for "a device for maintaining the interest and cooperation of the athlete."

Asked if there was any connection between the recommendation and the growing revolt of Negro athletes on campuses, Reed said the question had come up but he noted there had been moves to limit scholarships in the past.

Notes Importance

"This is not a subject on which you can generalize," Reed said of the revolt. "But it is without question one of the most important matters in athletic administration."

In other action, the association announced that beginning with the 1969 football season "absolute uniformity in the mechanics of officiating" would be enforced by the various conferences.

Reed said such matters as the placement of the back judge and field judge on the snap from center would be set down.

The group also urged the NCAA to coordinate with the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations as a means for reducing the recruiting pressure by colleges on high school athletes.

Limit College 'Visits'

It recommended the number of colleges any high school athlete could visit be limited as well as the number of contracts he could have with colleges while his sport is in season.

The Association also announced it was divided on the recent NCAA ruling that freshmen be allowed to compete in all varsity sports except football and basketball. Four conferences will move to repeal the rule at the next NCAA convention.

Officers elected are James H. Weaver of the Atlantic Coast Conference, president; Tom Hamilton of the Pacific 8, vice president, and Norvall Neve of the Missouri Valley Conference, secretary-treasurer.

Olympic Trials This Weekend

Expect Torrid Competition at 100, 200 Meters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It doesn't figure to be another Sacramento Story in the 100-meter dash in the Olympic track and field trials this weekend. But the competition should be just as torrid.

The Saturday - Sunday trials for the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico City will be staged in Memorial Coliseum, site of the 1932 Olympic Games.

And some old timers will tell you the new Coliseum running strip may not be as fast as it was in the old days, a point borne out by most of the sprinters who have tested it in the last couple of years.

So there may not be such world record breaking sensations of 9.9 as was turned in at Sacramento last week in the National AAU meet by Charlie Greene, Ronnie Ray Smith and Jim Hines.

Greene and Smith are scheduled to compete against each other in one heat of the 100. And Hines will run in the second heat against Mel Pender and Kurt Clayton, who tied the world mark of 10.0 over Sacramento's fast clay track.

The 200-meter dash features the world record holder, Tommie Smith. Hines and Ronnie Ray Smith. The 20 flat record may or may not stand.

Kaukauna Tourney Resumes

Now that the Fox Cities' monsoon-like weather appears to be over, the 27-team Kaukauna Athletic Club Softball tournament may be completed this weekend. The finals are slated for Sunday evening at Bay-region Field.

Three games are on the docket for both tonight and Saturday night.

In the first game tonight, The Paper, of Oshkosh, faces Kaukauna Schouten Oil at 6 p.m. Green Bay's 616 Club takes on cross-town rival Esquire Bar at 7:15 p.m., and Milwaukee Commercial Maintenance plays Appleton Maritime Bar in the night's finale (at 9 p.m.).

The first game in Saturday's semi-finals (6 p.m.) will pit one of the tourney favorites, Wisconsin National Life Insurance of Ishpeming, Mich., against Racine National Aluminum.

WNLi heads into the contest with a 20-game win streak.

At 7:15 p.m. Saturday, the winners of Schouten Oil — The Paper and Commercial Maintenance — Maritime games square off, at 9 p.m., the victors in the 616 Club — Esquire Bar and the WNLi — National Aluminum contests play each other.

The losers in the semi-finals meet for third-place honors Sunday prior to the 8 p.m. championship game.

Former White Sox Hurler From 1930's, Grant Bowler, Dies

DENVER (AP) — A former pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, Grant T. Bowler, 60, died in his sleep Tuesday night at his home here.

Bowler retired from the Denver police force as a detective in 1964 after more than 24 years of service.

He started his professional baseball career with the Denver Bears of the Western League in 1930 and pitched for the White Sox in 1931 and 1932.

Bob & Mary's Defends Title In Luxemburg

Bob & Mary's Bar, of Kaukauna, will defend its championship in the Luxemburg Softball Tournament, which starts Monday.

In the opening game, at 7 p.m. Monday, Bob & Mary's will meet Van-L-Limited of Green Bay.

Jitter's and John's, of Menasha, meets Military Golfland in Monday's 8:15 game.

Village Inn Pizza, of Menasha, faces 616 Club, Green Bay, at 7 p.m. Wednesday. Schouten Oil-ers of Kaukauna, face Nelson's Esquire Bar, Green Bay, at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday.

The finals of the 16-team tourney will be played Saturday night, July 6.

Tendon Healed, Elijah Eager to Rejoin Packers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Elijah Pitts, wearing old-fashioned high-top boots, is coming off the basketball court with almost a top football shoes to provide the devil-may-care enthusiasm about his return to the Green Bay Packers.

Pitts, who finally got a start in the National Football League last season after Paul Hornung departed, was out of action a few games later after injuring an achilles tendon Nov. 5.

He has been giving it time to heal, demonstrated its improve-ment Thursday by trotting up a flight of grandstand stairs at Milwaukee County Stadium, and said he is ready to return to work for the Packers.

"I've done just about everything I wanted to do with the leg," he said. "I've played a lot of basketball during the winter ... and I found by run-

Scoring Quickly Only Way to Fell Rosewall, Says Fallen Pasarell

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—If anyone is to stop Ken Rosewall from winning Wimbledon, he's got to do it by scoring points quickly.

Ask Charlie Pasarell, top ranked U.S. amateur who came near to toppling the great Australian in the second round Thursday.

"Unless you score the points quickly, you don't win it at all," the husky star from San Juan, Puerto Rico said.

"Once a rally gets going, he gets better and better with each stroke and eventually he puts one right through you."

Pasarell's booming service—one of the most powerful in the world—brought him close to glory on the center court. Finally Rosewall, behind 0-2 in the final set, won 7-9, 6-1, 6-8, 6-2, 6-3.

All ticket proceeds will be used to help reduce the club's debt on the new clubhouse.

Quad Cities, which last night reduced its magic number to 1 in the first-half pennant race, invades Goodland Field at 4 p.m. Sunday to help the Foxes launch the second-round schedule. The Angels also will play Monday night, when a fireworks display is scheduled. The Appleton JCs will co-sponsor the display.

Quad Cities' Angels swept a crucial doubleheader from runner-up Cedar Rapids (4-3 and 6-5) last night to increase their lead to 3½ games. One Quad Cities win or one Cedar Rapids loss will assure the Angels of their first title of any kind since entering the Midwest League in 1960. The Cards could win it (on percentage points) if they win their remaining three and the Angels lose four.

The Angels are slated for a pair of doubleheaders at Wisconsin Rapids — tonight and Saturday — while Cedar Rapids meets Decatur twice tonight and once Saturday.

The Foxes have released pitchers Bill Cole and Bill Bunn outright while adding shortstops Stu Singleton and Dana Ryan and second baseman Jim Redmond to the roster.

left the fans wondering whether Rosewall can win Wimbledon 12 years after his last final appearance. He turned pro after losing to fellow-Australian Lew Hoad in 1956. Rosewall has been classed with veteran Pancho Gonzales as the best player never to win Wimbledon.

At 33 the little Australian is the coolest player in the business, and almost as mobile as he ever was.

Pasarell sent 20 clean aces whistling past him. The only emotion Rosewall ever showed was to pull out a handkerchief and wipe his nose thoughtfully as he strolled across the court to face the next one.

The big American served so well that almost any other opponent would have folded up. But Rosewall got enough of Pasarell's services back across the net to stem the tide.

"Once he gets his racket behind the ball—no matter how hard you serve at him—I'm convinced he's the greatest player in the world," Pasarell said.

More Errors
"I wouldn't care to say," Pasarell said. "I've played them both now, and they're both great players but in different ways. Laver makes more great shots, but he also makes more errors."

Laver is top seed and Rosewall is seeded second.

After four days of intermittent rain, the organizers are some 140 matches behind schedule. But they've finished all the first round of the men's singles and all but seven of the second round.

Laver moved into the third round Thursday with a hard-earned 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 victory over No. 7 seeded Stan Smith of Los Angeles, Calif. Laver, who eliminated Eugene Scott of St. James, N.Y., in the first round, next faces another American—Marty Riessen, Davis Cup star from Evanston, Ill.

Meanwhile, Capt. Mike Gibson, the tournament referee, still hoped to finish inside the scheduled two weeks despite his mounting backlog.

"With 16 courts at our disposal, we can make up lost time next week," Gibson said. "If the bad weather lasts beyond this weekend I shall begin to worry. But it will have to go on raining next week before we think of extending the championships."

Santiago Hopes He's Ready To Pitch in All-Star Game

By DAVE O'HARA

BOSTON (AP)—Jose Santiago, go, the Boston Red Sox's pitching ace, was both a pleased and worried young man after picking up his ninth victory in a short tour of duty against the Cleveland Indians.

Just a few hours after being named to the American League All-Star team for the first time, the 27-year-old right-hander was beset by elbow pain and forced to retire after five innings Thursday night in the Red Sox 9-3 romp over the Indians.

"It's really sore, the worst it's ever been," Santiago said. "I just couldn't stand the pain out there any longer. I've had tendonitis the last couple of years, but that's something you have to live and work with."

"Being named to the All-Star team is a great honor. Now I just hope I'll be ready to pitch in the game."

Santiago said the X-rays in the past disclosed a tiny spur on the elbow. However, Red Sox trainer Buddy LeRoux denied the statement.

"It's always been ligament trouble, a chronic condition," LeRoux said. "He's had the trouble for three years off and on, or ever since he joined us."

LeRoux said that Santiago would have "precautionary X-rays" today. He didn't think the condition too serious, but Santiago was more concerned.

Santiago took the mound in windy, cold weather after intermittent rain throughout the day prevented infield or batting practice. He was nicked for two hits and an unearned run in the first, but allowed only one more hit before going out with a 9-1 lead.

but did not play in 1965, then pitched two scoreless innings in 1966.

That's the sum total of All-Star experience on this year's staff, but all four of the first time selectees have pitched spectacularly this season.

John, only other southpaw selected besides McDowell, has compiled a 6-0 record despite hurrying for the light-hitting White Sox.

11-5 Mark Tiant has pitched six shutouts, including a two-hitter and a pair of three-hitters, in compiling an 11-5 record.

Santiago's 8-4 mark includes a pair of shutouts and two 1-0 losses.

Odom has tossed three shutouts, including a one-hitter, in his 7-4 record.

The 1967 staff consisted of Dean Chance, Minnesota; Jim Lonborg, Boston; Al Downing, New York; Steve Hargan, Cleveland; Gary Peters and Joel Horlen, Chicago; Jim McGlothlin, California; and Jim Hunter, Kansas City.

The 1968 starting team except for the pitcher, chosen by vote of the players and announced earlier includes catcher Bill Freehan, Detroit; first baseman Harmon Killebrew, Minnesota; second baseman Rod Carew, Minnesota; third baseman Brooks Robinson, Baltimore; shortstop Jim Fregosi, California; and outfielders Carl Yastrzemski, Boston, Frank Howard, Washington, and Willie Horton, Detroit.

produced an insurance run in the ninth.

Ruins Marichal Bid
Versalles' leadoff homer off Marichal in the 11th ruined the Giant ace's bid for his 15th victory and dropped San Francisco into third place, one-half game behind Atlanta and seven back of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals.

Willie McCovey drove in four runs with his 19th and 20th homers, staking Marichal to an early 5-2 lead. The Dodgers rebounded on Len Gabrielson's two-run homer in the fifth and tied it on pinch hitter Ken Boyer's run-scoring single in the sixth.

Four LA relievers then battled Marichal, 14-3, to a standoff until Versalles' second homer broke the tie.

Hank Aaron drilled his 14th homer ... and 495th of his career ... and brother Tommie delivered two runs with a pair of singles, helping the Braves take a 4-2 lead into the ninth.

But winner Pat Jarvis needed relief help from Cecil Upshaw, who retired Rich Allen on a sharp grounder to third baseman Marty Martinez for the final out after pinch hitter Bill White's RBI single had closed the gap.

Infiltrators Enter Capital

Allied Forces Sure Another Saigon Attack Set to Begin

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong infiltrators were reported pushing in toward Saigon today, and Vietnamese forces in the capital were placed on full alert to meet a possible new major attack.

All leaves were canceled in the Saigon military district. Supply and administrative clerks were confined to quarters and told to be ready to fight.

Senior U.S. officers said no alert was necessary for American troops. "We're as fully alert all the time as we can be," said one.

It was learned, meanwhile, that South Vietnamese authorities were holding a high-ranking Viet Cong official who gave the government valuable details of the enemy's threatened third offensive against Saigon. The captive, said to hold the rank of colonel or lieutenant colonel in the enemy command's capital military district, was captured about a week ago. "He has been important to us tactically for military information," a source said.

South Vietnamese intelligence sources said enemy infiltration in the capital military district has been stepped up within the past 48 hours.

LBJ Will Sign Bill on Monday Holidays

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he will sign the bill making four national holidays fall always on Mondays.

The new law will change the dates for Washington's birthday, Memorial Day and Veterans Day. The bill also changes the date for the fourth Monday in October.

The bill applies only to federal employees and the District of Columbia. But by Jan. 1, 1971, when the law takes effect, most states are expected to have decided to go along with the new holiday lineup, which, with Labor Day, will produce five three-day weekends a year.

Praises Measure
"This is the greatest thing that has happened to the travel industry since the invention of the automobile," said Clarence A. Arata, president of the National Association of Travel Organizations.

Travel agencies and the business community were the main champions of the legislation. The key to its success this year was the inclusion of Columbus Day, a holiday long sought by Italian-Americans.

A major argument used by its sponsors was that Monday holidays would stimulate greater industrial and commercial production by reducing employee absenteeism and avoiding the interruptions of midweek holidays.

Patriotic and veterans organizations raised some opposition, particularly to the change in observance of Washington's birthday and Veterans Day, but the bill passed easily in both the House and Senate.

Opponents also argued that creation of a new national holiday—Columbus Day—will cost the federal government about $80 million in lost man-hours and premium pay.

ing an "HHH" button leaned over and whispered into the New York governor's ear. "I'm the only Republican working here."

She smiled and gave Rockefeller a pat on the arm.

The candidate for the Republican presidential nomination was greeted by the vice president's sister-in-law, Mrs. Ralph Humphrey, who assisted him in making a few purchases.

There was much laughter when the millionaire governor dug into his personal finances and found himself eight cents short of the $21.08 bill.

A newsman chipped in a dime to close the fiscal gap.

Rockefeller purchased a pair of earrings for his wife Happy, a drinking cup for 4-year-old Nelson Jr., and a set of colored wooden rings on a peg for 15-month-old Mark.

Smiling, Mrs. Humphrey termed the visit "kind of good for my morale."

She recalled that the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy had made a similar visit when he was campaigning in South Dakota for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Moves to Block Court Choices Gaining Force

Security Measures High in Los Angeles; Continuance Likely

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Intense security precautions are being taken at Los Angeles County Central Jail today for an appearance in a chapel-turned-courtroom by Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, charged with murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The court appearance, Sirhan's third since the June 5 assassination and his first in three weeks, was set up for a plea. But Russell E. Parsons, Sirhan's attorney, said he planned to ask a three-week continuance for time to give the case more study.

Parsons said he wanted to study the lengthy transcript of the county grand jury proceeding June 7 that led to Sirhan's indictment on one count of murder and five counts of assault with intent to commit murder.

The assault charges were filed on behalf of five bystanders wounded in the fusillade of bullets that felled the Democratic presidential aspirant.

Making Progress
The most seriously wounded of those five, Paul Schrade, western regional director for the United Auto Workers Union, was reported Thursday to be making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

Schrade, 42, suffered a head wound and was hospitalized nine days after undergoing a two-hour operation to remove bone and bullet fragments. His doctor, neurosurgeon Kaspar Fuchs, said no decision would be made for several weeks as to whether a metal plate would be placed in the wound.

Today's proceeding at the chapel, where Sirhan formally was charged with murder three weeks ago, originally had been scheduled for the Hall of Justice where he is to be tried.

The location was changed because security measures at the hall were not complete.

The County Board of Supervisors has authorized installation of protection devices, at an estimated cost of $20,000 because of numerous threats against Sirhan and Parsons.

Georgians Say 'Phooey'

Maddox Gets the Word

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox says "phooey on the whole crowd" phooey - grammers.

The governor responded to a campaign based on his favorite expletive. Phooey - grammers - bear one word, "Phooey," plus the name of the sender.

Atlanta attorney James H. Moore initiated the campaign—phooey buttons, phooey bumper stickers and possibly a phooey flagpole.

He sent the first official communication but it missed the mark. It read: "Phooey."

And, an over-anxious supporter beat Moore to the draw. His wire read, "Dear

Gov. Maddox: I just couldn't wait, Phooey."

Moore said he conceived the idea at lunch with friends one day.

"We were discussing how obnoxious Lester was and what a name he was giving the state," Moore said. "We thought how great it would be if millions of Georgians would just say phooey on him."

'Phooey Skirts'

Moore hopes phooey buttons and bumper stickers will be on the market soon. He also has designated all skirts above the knee as "phooey skirts" because Maddox refuses to allow female employees in his office to wear miniskirts.

Moore also wants to erect a

phooey flagpole which will not operate above half staff in memory of the governor's order lowering the flag to half staff in mourning of a school desegregation decision by the U.S. Supreme Court.

"I just want to keep driving the message home to him that Georgians reject him. We have no use for him. We want him to resign," Moore said, adding that he had received many calls from people who said they liked the idea.

The attorney said his interest in politics goes no farther than the issues.

"I have no political aspirations for myself," he said. "I have some for Lester—total oblivion."

Backing Said To Exist in Both Parties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of President Johnson's naming a new chief justice are claiming increasing support in both parties and the offensive seems to have taken the Senate Democratic leadership by surprise.

The opposition, centered so far largely on a petition being circulated by Senate Republicans, is "a little more emphatic than I anticipated it would be," Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said Thursday night.

"I don't know what these people can do," commented Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., of the Senate Judiciary Committee which will consider Johnson's appointments of Abe Fortas as chief justice of the Supreme Court and Homer Thornberry as an associate justice.

Fortas would replace the retiring Earl Warren with Thornberry stepping up from the U.S. Court of Appeals in Austin, Tex., to fill the vacancy created by Fortas' elevation.

'Worst of Hypocrisy'

Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., described the GOP move to block the nominations "a blatant political maneuver" and "the worst sort of hypocrisy."

"In 1960, when a Senate resolution urged President Eisenhower not to make Supreme Court appointments while the Senate was not in session, the Republicans were up in arms," Brewster said in a statement today.

"They argued that it was imperative that there be a full complex of justices at all times," he continued. "Yet today, with Congress still in session, with the Senate fully prepared to confirm or reject these nominations on their own merits, some Republicans tell us that it is now best for the country to leave the highest seat on that court vacant for almost six months."

'Double Talk'

"This is partisan double talk," Brewster contended, "and I hope my colleagues recognize it for what it is."

Mansfield, Eastland and Brewster commented in the wake of two major developments.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., circulator of the petition, claimed support of most of his GOP colleagues and some Democrats and said "I really think the nominations can be blocked."

A question was raised in the Judiciary Committee about whether a vacancy really exists.

Delay Seen as Defeat For Bill on Gun Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — The registration of all guns and the drive for stronger gun control laws, already beset by delays and apparent adverse public reaction, has suffered what may be a crippling setback.

The latest blow was a 7-5 vote by the Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday to delay further consideration of weapons control bills until July 9.

"Those concerned about the passage of responsible firearms legislation had better realize that this was a real defeat," Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., said.

Reversal in Mail
The outlook for new legislation urged by President Johnson had been dimmed previously by a slowdown in the House and by a sharp reversal in an initial flood of mail favoring strong gun controls after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Congress had seemed moving toward speedy action on a measure to prohibit interstate mail order sales of all firearms and ammunition and to ban their over-the-counter sale to nonresidents of a state.

This would have extended to rifles and shotguns the restrictions provided for pistol sales in the recently enacted crime control bill.

But the first of this week, Johnson also asked Congress to feel the hearings on the regulations requiring the national registration and licensing proposals weren't extensive enough.

Immediately after, congressmen reported their mail had reversed itself from favoring strict control laws and was running heavily against the proposals, particularly those requiring registration. This came after the National Rifle Association, main opponent of controls, called for a letter campaign against the bills.

In an apparent move to keep the registration controversy from affecting the mail order ban extension, Johnson asked in his message that the registration proposals not delay enactment of the bills already before Congress.

But his plea didn't seem to have any effect Thursday.

When the Senate committee met, Sen. Tydings proposed an amendment adding the registration and licensing provisions to the mail order bill, which was approved by the House Judiciary Committee last week.

After extended closed-door debate on Tydings' amendment, Sen. Quentin N. Burdick, D-N.D., moved to postpone further consideration of the legislation until July 9 and his suggestion was adopted, 7 to 5.

An aide said later the senator Johnson also asked Congress to feel the hearings on the regulations requiring the national registration and licensing proposals weren't extensive enough.

Montreal Doctors Do 2nd Heart Transplant

MONTREAL (AP) — A surgical team at the Montreal Heart Institute planted a new heart today in the chest of Gaetan Paris, a 49-year-old electrical designer, and set it to beating with a single electrical shock.

This was Canada's second heart transplant. Like the first, it was performed by a team of the institute headed by Dr. Pierre Grondin. The surgery took somewhat less than three hours.

The heart came from Yvon Bastien, 23, of Montreal, who died from injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident Thursday night.

Paris had suffered three heart attacks and doctors considered he had little time to live. The father of five children, his home is nearby Laval.

The operation is the 22nd in the world. Four of the transplant recipients are still living, including Dr. Philip Blaiberg, 59, who received a heart in Cape Town, South Africa, Jan. 2, the world's third transplant.

The operation today was started hours after the recipient's wife publicly appealed to hospital emergency wards in the area to remind families of accident victims that her husband needed a heart transplant.

"Make the Gesture"
"As a wife and mother of five children, I ask only that any family that is in a position to come to the aid of my husband does not hesitate to make the gesture which will cost nothing but which could save a life," she said in an interview.

The surgery was performed by a team headed by Dr. Pierre Grondin, who did Canada's first heart transplant on May 31. The recipient, Albert Murphy, 59, a butcher, died of circulatory complications June 1.

An institute spokesman said a decision to proceed with the second operation was made between midnight and 6 a.m. and that permission had been obtained from Bastien's relatives and Paris' wife, Claire.

Before Bastien's death, four hearts were offered for the operation, but examinations showed that none was suitable for Paris.

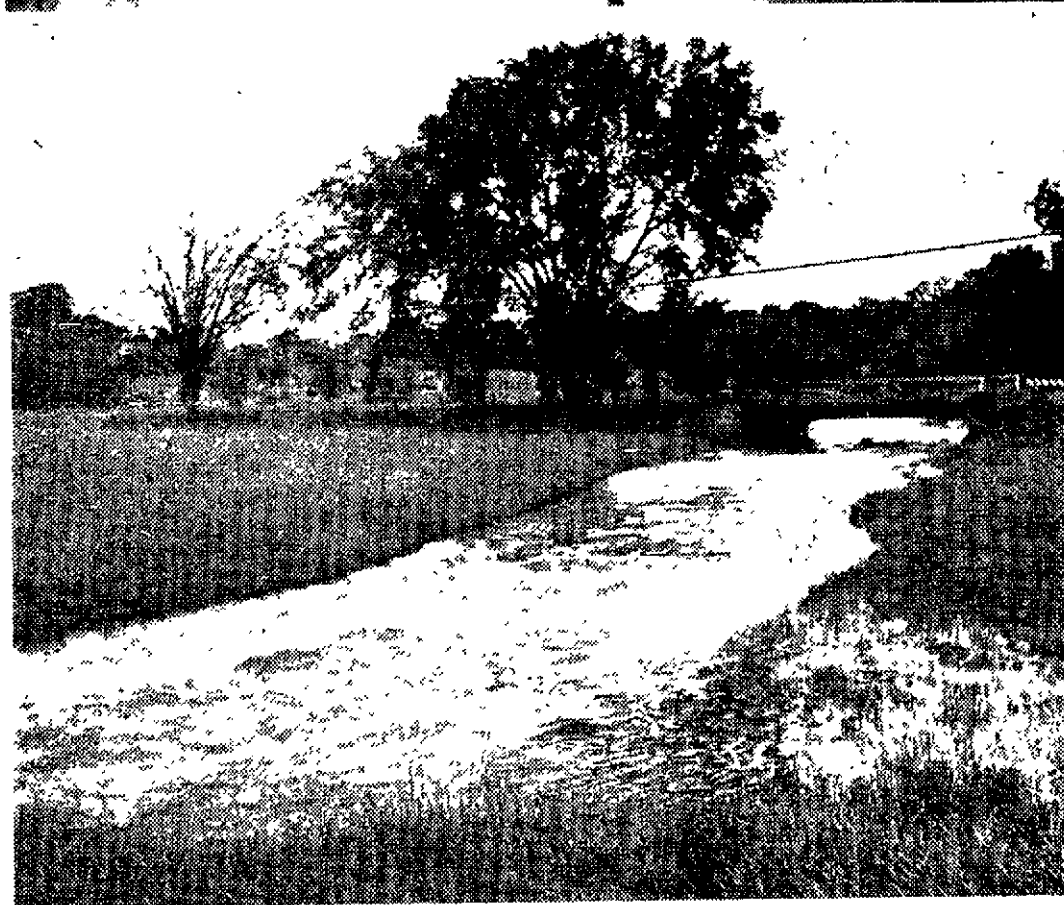

His condition was deteriorating when his wife made her appeal Thursday night.

She said she decided to call on the public for help after doctors had told her a heart transplant became more urgent every day.

WSU-O Gets $3 Million Building Loan

OSHKOSH — The U.S. Office of Education has granted a $3 million loan to Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh (WSU-O) to construct a fine arts building. The announcement was made Wednesday in Washington, D.C., by Sen. Gaylord Nelson.

Total cost of the project is expected to be in excess of $6 million. The State Building Commission already has approved the use of state money for the balance of the project. If schedules are met as they are now planned, the building could be ready for its first use in mid-1970.

The fine arts building will bring together under one roof WSU-O's music, speech, drama and art departments. A television instruction center and the university's FM radio station also will be included.

The building will be bounded by Algoma Boulevard and Woodland and Elmwood avenues.

July 4th Parade In Fremont Set By Blue Birds

FREMONT — The Fourth of July parade here will be sponsored by the Blue Bird members of the Camp Fire Girls.

Mrs. Mike Peters, leader of the Camp Fire Girls, said the Thursday parade will move down Wolf River Drive beginning about 10 a.m.

Children eligible for prizes must be 14 years old or younger and have registered with Mrs. Peters. Adult participants are welcomed.

Prizes will be awarded to each child participant. The three first place prizes, as determined by five judges, will receive cash awards.

Man Innocent of Traffic Charge

A six-member Outagamie County Court jury deliberated only 25 minutes, Thursday afternoon, before finding Duane Rettler, 22, route 2, Black Creek, innocent of a traffic charge brought by county police following an accident early the morning of Feb. 5 on Outagamie County Trunk A, north of Appleton.

Rettler had been charged with driving too fast for conditions. The jury heard about a half day of testimony in Court Branch 2.

Marion Girl Attends Conservation Camp Near Prairie du Chien

MARION — Peggy McInnis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William McInnis, is attending a girls conservation camp this week at Wyalusing State Park, Prairie du Chien.

This is the first year the camp has been in operation for high school age girls. The program is sponsored by the Department of Natural Resources in cooperation with the U.S. Forest Service, Wisconsin Council for Conservation and the Department of Public Instruction.

The program includes the study of forest management, game management, parks and recreation, fish management and forest protection.

Rescue Squad Called Twice in Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — The volunteer rescue squad answered two calls Thursday.

The first came about 8:20 a.m. when Mrs. Charles Barker of 81 Hughes St., Clintonville, was taken to community hospital, where she is receiving treatment.

About 2:27 p.m. John Peeters, route 1, Shiocton, also was taken to Community Hospital for treatment.

Passes Prime Stage

Post-Crescent Farm Editor

The storm that has dumped about 4½ inches of rain since Tuesday on most of the Fox Valley area may greatly decrease the value of the first hay crop which is ready for harvest.

Once the rain stops it will take time for the hay to dry to permit the crop to continue maturing.

Hay is at its prime when cut at the early bud stage. The value declines as it continues to mature. Chances of a third crop this season look dim, according to agricultural experts.

A survey in Outagamie County last year showed 90 per cent of the farmers harvested dry hay with the balance going to silage. However, there were indications more intended to switch to the silage form this season.

Make up Loss

The situation may prompt dairy farmers to purchase more protein supplements to make up for the loss in hay quality. A possible decline in milk production also is forecast.

Strikes, Weather Slowing Seymour School Expansion

$1.5 Million Program Nine Weeks Behind Schedule, Official Says; Second Bond Issue Considered

SEYMOUR — Strikes and the weather have placed the Seymour Community School District's $1.5 million expansion program nine weeks behind schedule, according to Supt. Lyle Martens.

Some temporary measures will be taken to cope with existing crowded elementary classes until the new facilities are available.

In addition, the district school board has called in the citizens advisory committee to counsel it on continuing crowded high school conditions which will not be relieved by the current bond issue.

A second bond issue is expected to be suggested to voters at the annual meeting July 22. They will be given two alternatives.

Alternatives Presented

The first would be to raze the old section of the Central School in Seymour and add necessary classrooms to the remaining section. The other alternative would be to add needed facilities to the existing high school on the west end.

Construction is almost on schedule for the addition to the Black Creek Elementary School, Martens said. Interior painting should start soon. It should be ready for use in September, barring unforeseen problems, he said.

A multi-purpose room and kitchen are being added to the Nichols Elementary School and it, too, should be ready this fall.

The new Rockledge Elementary School being built between the present high school and Rockledge Park may be half ready by November. Construction crews have been working with "extra speed" since they returned, Martens observed.

Work for Enclosure

Work is being concentrated on the heating plant, gymnasium and kitchen so the building can be enclosed later this summer. Lower elementary classrooms have the next priority.

"There is a very remote chance we may be getting into some classrooms by September," the superintendent said.

The seventh and eighth grade program will operate as planned at the Black Creek and Central schools. This also will accommodate the shift of these grades from St. John the Baptist Catholic School, Seymour.

Kindergarten classes will continue as planned at Seymour and Black Creek. This will be the first year a full-time kindergarten program will be offered at Black Creek.

Martens said the school board may have to negotiate for a kindergarten classroom in a church basement in Seymour until the new school is ready.

Three third grade sections again will be housed at the Seymour Municipal Building. Due to crowded conditions, third graders used the new facility during the 1967-68 term.

Continue to Operate

The Sunny Nook and Chicago Corners schools will continue to operate next year. Classes at these schools will be determined about the end of July and hinge on construction progress on the Rockledge school.

"If we can have five or six classrooms in the Rockledge School within a few months this fall then whole classes and their teachers will be transported to Sunny Nook or Chicago Corners in fall until new classrooms are ready," Martens explained.

If occupancy isn't possible until January, then the eastern half of the district will operate as is for grades one through six. Pupils at Sunny Nook and Chicago Corners will remain there for the first semester.

Total construction is expected to be completed by mid-January, Martens said.

Wants to Rent

The district has asked St. John parish to rent two classrooms in its parochial school next year and is awaiting word on the proposal.

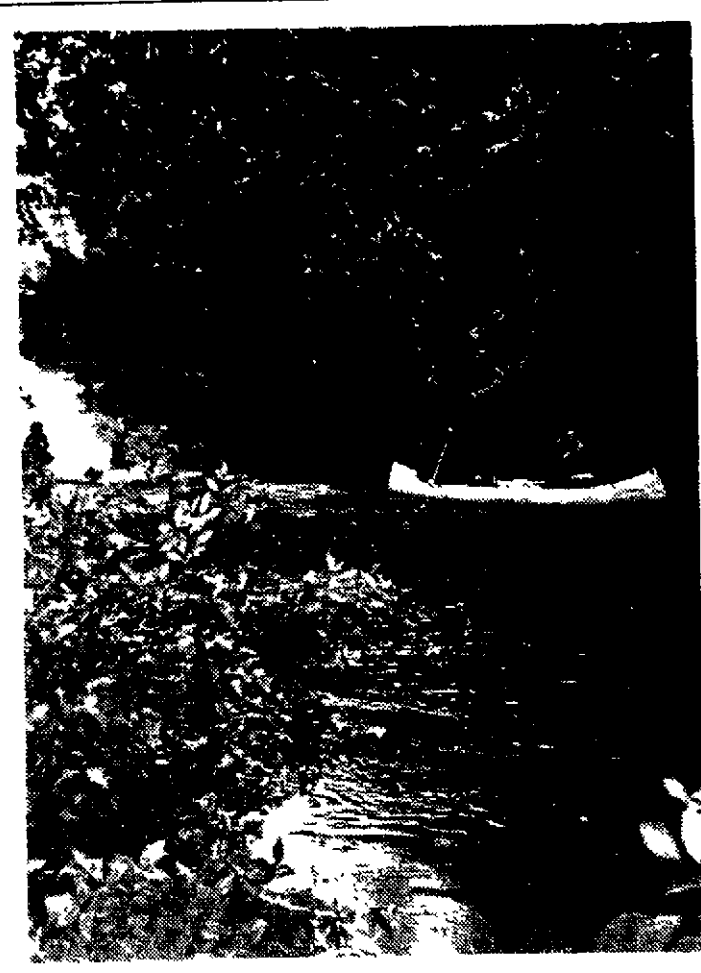

Equipment for the new classrooms and facilities is arriving daily and creating some temporary storage problems. One storage area, the old Isaar School, burned down earlier this month.

The roof on the Rockledge School should be on by September, so even if classrooms are not ready the space can be utilized for storage.

The district still needs a first grade teacher at Black Creek and another at Seymour, plus an elementary librarian at Seymour. The district plans to have a professional staff of 129 in fall, including administration personnel.

School population is expected to increase about 240 pupils this year, principally due to the addition of kindergarten and absorbing the seventh and eighth grade pupils from St. John.

An estimated 800 students will jam the high school in fall.

Chilton Controversy Police, Council Rift Is Said to be Settled

CHILTON — City police policies, as to speeding arrest, warnings, court procedures, and salaries were discussed Wednesday night at a closed session of the police and fire commission and council members.

Although no official release was available or given to the news media of the outcome of the meeting, it was termed by Mayor Harry Thompson and concurred with by Police Chief Daniel Albedyll that "we have ironed out all our problems and the meeting was a good one and a benefit to all."

Albedyll also disclosed that council members would bring up all matters pertaining to police business and complaints of the department at a meeting of the commission.

The meeting was prompted by ridicule directed at the police department at a recent council meeting at which time the news media were criticised for its coverage of meetings pertaining to police matters.

Masses Set For Saturday At Fremont

FREMONT — Weekly Roman Catholic tourist masses have been scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Saturdays until fall.

They will be conducted at the Fremont village hall by the Rev. Mark Schmitt of the S.S. Peter Paul Catholic Church, Weyauwega.

The church has conducted 6 a.m. Sunday masses for spring fishermen and 7 a.m. Sunday masses for vacationers.

A trial of Saturday evening masses was successful. They will now replace the Sunday morning summer vacationer schedule.

None Hurt in Crash At U. S. 45, State 54

NEW LONDON — A two car collision about midnight Thursday at U.S. 45 and State 54 resulted in more than $100 damage.

City police said a car driven by Robert A. Kelly, 30, McHenry, Ill., was headed south on U.S. 45 and a vehicle driven by Wiley B. Syverson, 26, 252 Bennett St., Clintonville, which was traveling east on State 54 collided in the intersection.

No injuries were reported.

'Bonanza' Set Flooded

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Melrose Avenue, a Paramount Studio set used for "Bonanza" and other television shows, became a lake Wednesday when a water main broke.

Ceiling, Wall of Northport Tavern Damaged in Fire

NEW LONDON — Fire caused serious damage to the ceiling and interior wall of the Hilltop Tavern, Northport, about 11:30 a.m. Thursday.

The bar and attached living quarters are owned by Thomas Sartor. Electrical wiring was believed to be the cause of the fire.

Firemen from New London and Town of Mukwa were at the scene for about two hours. Fire damaged the ceiling and wall behind the bar in the southeast corner of the building. Smoke and water damaged much of the bar area and living quarters. The extent of damage is undetermined at this time.

The blaze was brought under control almost immediately. Firemen remained at the scene until the back bar could be disassembled and moved away from the wall to assure the fire had been extinguished.

Heavy Rains Cast Doubt on Value of Hay Crop

As these conditions continue it can mean an increasing loss to the dairy farmers but there is no way of estimating the amount in terms of dollars.

Some farmers have switched to the silo method of storing hay because it can be harvested at a 50 per cent moisture content level. Most dry hay, whether in chopped or baled form, is stored at about 25 per cent.

Fire Danger

There also lurks a potential danger in the barn fires later this summer caused by combustion of dry hay stored at an excessively moist level. Farmers will be anxious to get the first crop off the field in an effort to salvage whatever quality is left or to beat the next rain.

The state Department of Agriculture's weekly crop and weather report this week, indicated about 20 per cent of the hay was harvested in central Wisconsin. The harvest is still ahead of last year when rain also curtailed cutting efforts.

Corn had been thriving in the warm, moist weather but what effect the heavy rains will have remains an educated guess at this point. Weather in July and August determines the corn quality, observed Leonard Warner, vocational agriculture director for the Appleton Technical Institute.

Weeds will not be a problem in fields where pre-emergence herbicide was applied, Warner noted, but elsewhere they could be until farmers can get into the fields with their cultivators.

Nitrogen applications also have been delayed because farmers can't get into the fields. About a quarter of the institute's farmer-students apply pre-emergence treatments, Warner noted.

Most of these farmers on the silage hay system harvested the crop before the rain, he observed. Only about a quarter have harvested dry hay.

Russell Luckow, Outagamie County agricultural agent, saw possible hope in a better second hay crop by late summer. The wind and rain have caused considerable lodging in the hay fields which will hamper eventual harvest.

Danger Areas

Luckow felt most lasting damage to hay, corn, grains or peas would be in low-lying fields subject to flooding. Hopefully the fields will dry in time for the pea harvest. Last year it took several tractors pulling in tandem to make it through some of the fields to harvest the early pea crop.

The force of the wind — gusts up to 48 miles per hour were reported in Appleton Wednesday — also is causing erosion problems in hill areas. Roadside ditches will be collecting considerable silt from the farmlands.

Soil conservation projects, already delayed by the weather, will be in even greater demand once the sun returns and farmers survey the damage.

Pingle Will Run For Treasurer Of Calumet

County Candidate Takes Out Papers on Democratic Ticket

CHILTON — Sam Pingle, route 4, Chilton, has taken out nomination papers for the office of Calumet County treasurer on the Democratic ticket.

Pingle will oppose incumbent Merlin Zahn, a Republican. This is the first entry into politics for Pingle, a former truck driver.

Persons picking up papers for party precinct committeemen seats were Daniel Thiel, route 2, Hilbert, for the Town of Woodville on the Democratic ticket, and Derrick Ott, route 1, Chilton, for the Town of Chilton; William Roghan, route 3, Chilton, Town of Stockbridge and G. K. Hipke, City of New Holstein, all on the Republican ticket.

Flower Garden Club Meets in Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — The Flower and Garden Club, which conducted its picnic Wednesday in the senior high school cafeteria, discussed plans for the annual flower show Aug. 18.

The next meeting of the club, July 31, will include a tour of the gladiol gardens of Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Monneau, Bear Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mitchell and Mrs. Herman Nass and Mrs. Leon Pelishek will plan prizes and Mrs. Arthur Fellenz, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Weller and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith, will be in charge of the lunch.

Boys League Rained Out at New London

NEW LONDON — Rain washed out Wednesday's Boys Baseball League schedule and Thursday's make up schedule had to be cancelled because of wet grounds.

Make up games will be carried over into next week. A battle of two undefeated teams in the minor division upper bracket never developed as the Cats were upset 11-8 by the underdog Hawks who owned a 1-3 record.

In other minor league contests during the week the Panthers beat the Bears 7-4; the Colts beat the Eagles, 14-10; the Badgers beat the Foxes, 2-1; the Cubs edged the Cougars, 10-9, and the Cobras beat the Falcons, 6-1.

Greg Kamke followed up a no hit effort by holding the Cardinals to one hit and one run and powering a two run homer in the last inning for a 2-1 White Sox win.

In other major league results the Orioles nipped the Braves 3-2; the Dodgers eked out a 7-6 verdict over the Red Sox; the Pirates tipped the Giants 4-2, and the Cardinals beat the Phillies, 9-2.

22 Students Receive Attendance Awards At Navarino Church

Clintonville '68 Cheese Box Derby Scheduled July 13

CLINTONVILLE — The 1968 Cheese Box Derby will be run at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 13 on N. 12th Street between 14th and Hemlock streets.

Trophies will be awarded in two divisions, Class A for boys 13 to 15 years of age and Class B for 10 to 12 year olds.

Boys eligible must live in the school district or within 10 miles from Clintonville. Each boy must build his racer and two may drive the same car if they are from the same family in different age groups.

The race will be a Hey Days feature. The event is sponsored by the Clintonville Men's Teachers Association. Bob Hanson and Al Mattson are co-chairmen.

Entry fee is $10 which includes the cost of wheels and axles. Boys have been told to register at the Coast-to-Coast Store where they also will select their sponsor. A re-entry fee of $1.50 has been set for racers entered from last year.

The sponsors said that a Powder Puff race will be run if enough interest is shown. The cars will be inspected July 12 in the National Bank parking lot.

2 Seats Open on Chilton Board

Brillion Crews Try to Relieve Water Problem

24-Hour Effort Necessary to Keep Sewer System Open

BRILLION — City crews worked around the clock and throughout the night Wednesday to alleviate water problems resulting from recent rains.

The men worked with portable pumps to keep high waters out of the city's sanitary sewer system.

Spring Creek, which runs through the city, usually overflows in February or March due to snow thaw and rain. Its waters went over the banks this week in several spots, causing surface water on streets and much basement flooding, according to Glen Campbell, director of public works.

Total 6.5 Inches

June rains totaled 6.5 inches this year, with 4.3 of that falling during the past seven consecutive days of rain. Total rainfall here in June, 1967 was 7.15 inches.

Rain last year was less intensified and fell on 15 days throughout the month.

The highest daily rainfall total in 1967 was 1.25 inches. Last Friday surpassed that record when two inches fell, according to Campbell's figures.

Brillion's Deer Run Golf Court is severely flooded.

New London Gets New Scoreboard As Lions' Gift

NEW LONDON — An electric scoreboard to be set up in Hatten Park Stadium has been received by the Lions Club.

The club purchased the scoreboard with funds raised by the annual auction sale and other projects. The board is 18 feet long and stands 10 feet high.

A conversion kit will allow use for baseball and football. The scoreboard, manufactured in Pardeeville, cost $2,200.

The city which has accepted the gift through its park and beautification committee, will set it up. Base of the new scoreboard will be about 10 feet above ground level.

The scoreboard will be placed at an angle in foul territory on the right field side of the stadium so it may be viewed from the baseball grandstand and by people in both bleachers lining the football field.

Waupaca Foundry to Close for Vacations

Homme Home At Wittenberg Requests Aid

$72,000 Sought From Churches, Individuals To Equip Addition

WITTENBERG — Congregational and individual aid is being sought to help furnish the new addition under construction at the Homme Home for the Aging.

Questions from member churches on what financial aid could be given prompted Keith Anderson, home administrator, to make known the need for funds for equipment.

Slightly more than $72,000 is needed to furnish the rooms and equip the kitchen and dining area. According to Anderson 14 double rooms can be furnished for $14,492 or $1,038 each. Furnishing four single rooms has been estimated at $2,800 or $700 each. Equipment for the kitchen has been estimated at $10,000 and furnishing the dining area has been estimated at $45,000.

Anderson suggested that furnishings for the larger areas could be congregation projects. The corporation is supported by many Lutheran congregations in the central Wisconsin area.

Since the project started in March progress has been plagued by labor problems and inclement weather, however contractors say that lost time can be made up and they are striving for the Nov. 1 completion date.
